ARLINGTON HEIGHTS STORES FILLED WITH CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Prepare for Big Buying Season; Best from Chicago Wholesale Markets Brought Here for Their Patrons; Large Advertisements Reveal Extensive Selection of Merchandise Which Is Offered at Popular Prices.

The stores of Arlington Heights have not in recent years offered a larger variety of Christmas merchandise. They have never made a greater effort to acquaint the public with the advantage of doing their Christmas shopping in that community. Large advertisements in this week's edition are used to carry their Christmas sales message into the neighboring communities served by the Paddock publications as well as throughout the home town.

Gifts from jewelry to practical suggestions for the home are listed in the advertising pages of this section. The Herald organization has done its utmost to co-operate with the Arlington Heights business men to make the 1934 Christmas season like the "good old days when everybody had money to spend at Christmas time." There is less money per family, but there are more families and the Paddock Publications are reaching out to bring a greater number of these families into Arlington Heights to do their Christmas shopping.

From a local standpoint, the local stores are doing their best to bring back prosperity in this city, it depends upon the co-operation of the public whether the effort of our business men have been worth while.

NEW FRUIT AGENCY

The Economy Orange Growers corporation, who opened a store at 10 West Campbell street, Arlington Heights, early in November, have closed the store and announced that their product is now being sold through Mrs. Kuhlmann's delicatessen in Arlington Heights. The firm specializes in tree-ripened citrus fruits shipped in carload lots from Florda and distributed in the suburbs.

The Methodist Men's club regular dinner will be December 19, at 6:15 with an interesting program to follow. A speaker will be heard on the topic of "Economics of Advertising."

JUST REMEMBER

The Arlington Heights Herald enters every home within the corporate limits of the village. It goes there through the co-operation of the business men who use its advertising columns.

Those who enjoy reading the Herald each week can aid in making the Herald a better newspaper for their community by asking their own merchant, with whom they do their trading, to use its advertising columns.

The task of maintaining a local newspaper too often depends upon the cooperation of a few of the merchants. Those whose ads. never appear therein are not helping to keep Arlington Heights in the news world.

Just a suggestion, help sell the Herald to your favorite storekeeper. It will mean a better and larger home newspaper.

Fall Into Reservoir Injures Rockford Man In Palatine Tuesday

As a result of a fall while descending into an underground water storage reservoir at Palatine to make an inspection, John Greenlee of Rockford was badly bruised Tuesday afternoon and suffered a sprained arm, hip, and leg. After being treated at the Community hospital he was taken to his home by Special Police Officer Oscar Weide.

The fall occurred as he was descending a ladder into the 10-foot deep reservoir located in the rear of the Municipal building at 54 South Brockway street. The reservoir, after being unused for many years, is being repaired through the utilization of I. E. R. labor. A. H. Schmidt, village trustee, is supervising the job.

Charles S. Stewart Will Speak to P T A Of Arlington Tuesd'y

"Education for Mastery of Tools, Technics, and Spirit of Learning," will be the topic of Charles S. Stewart, featured speaker at next Tuesday's meeting of the Arlington Heights Parent-Teacher association. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the Southside school.

This will be a regular meeting of the association, with the speaker and singing of Christmas carols by school children following the business meeting. The program will be open to the public.

Mr. Stewart is an English teacher at Wright Junior college in Chicago. He was an instructor at Crane Junior college for some 14 years until it closed, and from 1907 to 1913 was principal of the Maine township high school at Des Plaines, where his home is located.

Christmas Seal Returns Are Good; But More Needed

The response to the Christmas Seal letters is gratifying to the committee. Of the amount thus far received $40.00 was realized from the sale of Health Bonds in five dollar denomiation and $121.00 has been contributed by 140 persons, whose contributions have ranged from five cents to five dollars. Because of the new method of camgaign it is impossible at present to compare accurately with previous years results, but we are looking forward to far greater returns than in the last two years. Less than one third of the letters have been turned in as yet and we urge you to be as prompt as possible with your returns.

10 Horses Dead in Fire At Farm Near Palatine

Ten horses were lost, nine of them burned to death and the other so seriously burned he had to be shot, in a fire which destroyed the barn at the Harry Kelly farm 2 miles northwest of Palatine early Saturday morning. Two horses were saved. The animals were all being boarded at the farm.

The blaze was first seen at about 5:45 o'clock, but an attempt was made to control the flames without calling out the firemen. When the Palatine Rural Fire Protection league truck was called the fire had gotten such headway that it could not be stopped and the firemen directed their efforts to saving the other buildings of the farm.

Is There a Santa Claus?

TO THE GOOD PEOPLE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

Just suppose you overheard a little chap with pinched face and threadbare clothes, say, "I do not believe there is a Santa Claus," and that question was asked right here in Arlington Heights the next day after Christmas, how would you, Mr. Citizen feel. Would it not be evident that there were grave reasons for the little fellow's disbelief in that patron of childhood?

There will be many little chaps in Arlington Heights who are now asking the question, "Is There a Santa Claus?" who will have their hopes dashed to the ground on Christmas morning, unless an organized effort is made.

The Arlington Heights Lions Club is stepping into the breech and intends to help these small tots keep their faith in that Old Gentleman, Santa Claus. Here is the plan and here is your opportunity to help us show that Arlington Heights has not forgotten the Christmas spirit. The mere purchase on your part of a 25c ticket to a high class show Christmas Eve, giving you a full evening's entertainment, will enable the Lions Club to use every penny of that 25c to bring cheer to those kiddies all afternoon, Dec. 24th.

Lion Godshaw, a new member of the Lions Club, will donate the entire proceeds of his theatre and put on, entirely at his own expense, a nine reel feature picture, especially selected for children, entitled, "Alice In Wonderland," and other children features, making a full afternoon show.

Then in the evening, Mr. Godshaw at his own expense will run two shows with the best pictures obtainable for your entertainment. All of the receipts will go to the kiddies. With that kind of a spirit on the part of Mr. Godshaw, can you afford to pass up this opportunity to do your part in purchasing a 25c ticket, even if you can't attend yourself.

After the afternoon show for the kiddies is over, Santa will appear in person and with the assistance of a number of the Lions, will distribute gifts to the children, who otherwse might not have the opportunity of meeting him.

If you want to see a thrilling sight, come down to the afternoon show and watch the expressions on the faces of the kiddies at the end of the program.

Our good friends and neighbors, the Lions Club of Mt. Prospect will work with us and the Mt. Prospect children are, of course, to be also included. We want children between the ages of two and fifteen years to attend the afternoon show; the younger ones may be accompanied by their parents.

Tickets for the afternoon or evening show, the entire receipts of which goes to the Lions Club Christmas Fund, may be purchased at nearly all of the Arlington Heights business houses. Every Lions Club member has tickets for you. Any organization or club, desiring blocks of tickets are asked to get in touch with Henry Miller, chairman of the Civic Welfare committee, Carl Ewert at Arlington Bootery, Sec., or Al Jasper, president. Mt. Prospect people can secure tickets of Wm. Busse, Jr., president of the Lions club of that town.

All tickets must be sold by Dec. 18, in order for the committee to complete the plans for Christmas. You are urged to buy your tickets now. If you can not attend, pass the tickets on to some one else.

The committee can not make a personal appeal. The faith and childhood belief of the kiddies of Arlington Heights in Santa Claus depends upon you and your neighbor. This is the only organized Christmas charity being planned this year.

Autoist Offers Free Taxi; Girl in Haste Injured by His Car

C. M. Lutes, 922 So. Dunton, Arlington Heights, tried to be a good Samaritan Monday morning by offering free taxi service to school for some of the pupils who reside in that part of town. It was a cold morning and he was glad to pick up three pupils of the high school and when he came near to Pauline Kozuntlik, who attends the Catholic school, he also prepared to stop for her. Pauline attempted to cross the road, preparatory to being ready to enter the car, without gauging the distance of the auto and was struck by the bumper with such force that one of the lower bones of her right leg was broken and a rib fractured. She was taken at once to Dr. Leckband who took an X-ray of the injuries.

Charles Taege Dies At Age of 70 Years; Funeral Was Tuesday

Charles Taege, an Arlington Heights resident for 47 years, died Saturday morning, just a few days short of 10 months after the death of his wife. He was 70 years old. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home and in St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church. The Rev. C. M. Noack and the Rev. Harry C. Fricke officiated.

Mr. Taege was born in Long Grove February 5, 1864 and in 1887 married Miss Bertha Kruckenberg at Lowden, Ia. The couple came to Arlington Heights where they made their home.

He served several terms as a member of the Arlington Heights grade school board, and was a member of that body at the time the east addition to the North side school was built. In January, 1932, he was pensioned after having worked 25 years as foreman in the striping, japaning, and enameling department of a Chicago firm.

Mr. Taege leaves four children, Paul Taege, Mrs. Olga Hennig, the Rev. Oswald Taege, and Miss Edna Taege, all of whom are living in Arlington Heights, six grandchildren, and two brothers, Emil Taege of Arlington Heights and William Taege of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

7-Year Old Schoolgirl Suffers Fractured Jaw When Struck by Auto

Shirley Broemmelkamp, 7-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brommelkamp, was severely injured when struck by an automobile Tuesday afternoon on Quentin road, one-fourth mile north of the Wittenberg school near Palatine. She suffered a fractured lower jaw, scalp cut, and body bruises.

The girl is a patient in the Community hospital where she was taken for treatment after the accident which occurred while the girl was on her way home from school.

The auto which struck her was driven by Miss Evelyn Meyer, 17 years old. The child was struck as she ran from behind a wagon on which a group of children had been riding. Seeing the children, Miss Meyer, was driving slowly, and so was able to avoid running over the child.

Frank Schmidt, who was walking behind the wagon in which the children had been riding, called a warning to them, but despite this the child dashed into the path of the oncoming auto.

The Herald had expected to publish the full list of the prizes in this issue, but all of the merchants are not yet quite ready to report and the full list with definite hours for the awards in the various stores will not be announced until next week's issue.

Among the new prizes offered this week are a $35 diamond ring offered by G. H. Wilke; $25 in trade offered by the Arlington Roller Mills; 3 tons of coal offered respectively by the three local coal dealers. Krause's Cash market is offering a Christmas turkey, and there are over two scores of other prizes.

This prize contest was first presented to the business houses of Arlington Heights as a Christmas trade project. There are very few rules and it is being conducted as impartially as possible.

For the benefit of the general public, we will state that there are two kinds of tickets being given out by the merchants. One ticket participates in the prize that the individual merchant intends to give; the other ticket applies to the community prizes, of which there will be nearly fifty.

The Arlington Theatre is giving a prize ticket with every admission, and there are few places in town that are not participating in the Christmas prize awards.

Great Horned Owl Shown in Museum Of Forest Preserve

A great horned owl, one of the last of its species in this part of the country, according to ornithologists, is on exhibition at the Trailside museum, of the Cook county forest preserve district, Thatcher and Chicago avenues.

The owl, whose yellow eyes are an inch across, was caught by Thomas McCree in Michigan, who presented it to Trailside musium. The bird stands nearly 2 feet tall, and has a wing spread of 48 inches. The horned owl is one of the largest of its tribe, birdmen say. The female is larger than the male. Trailside museum's guest is a female.

Just as they surpass other owls in size, so too, are they the most ferocious. Many tales are told of their boldness in attacking large animals.

Trailside Museum gets its name from the fact that it is along one of the 175 miles of hiking trails of the forest preserves. It is open from 10 a. m., to 6 p. m., daily free to visitors. It contains either living or mounted species of all animals, birds, insects, reptiles, butterflies making the forest preserves their abode.

Arlington Heights Garden Club Question Box ....

Selecting a Christmas Tree

There are several kinds of Evergreens which can be used for Christmas Trees, the Norway Spruce, Balsam Fir, Colorado Spruce, Douglas Spruce, and Black Hill White Spruce.

The Balsam Fir, a native of North America, is superior for a Christmas tree. It is of very good color, symmetrical growth, and fine fragrance. It grows tall from 40 to 50 feet, with regularly branched layers or whorls of branches about the trunk and quite thick at the base of the tree which is ideal for hanging ornaments. The leaves or needles are about one inch in length, smooth and soft, with a bluish green tint and a pronounced balsam fragrance. The needles do not fall off the branches as readily as other evergreen varieties which makes it the most desirable for the Christmas tree for the house.

The Norway Spruce, Picea Excelsa, is the common native Spruce of Europe and is found in Russia, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, France and elsewhere. It is most widely used and grows to about 60 feet. The shape, pointed leaves are an inch or less in length and dark green in color. The branches are in regular layers branching close to the ground and making a sweeping or dropping appearance.

The Colorado Blue and green Spruce, natives of the North American Rocky Mountains are very compact and bushy for Christmas trees and likewise the Black Hill White Spruce and the Douglas Spruce. They are slow growers and too expensive for cutting purposes.

In selecting a Christmas tree it should be symmetrical with regular branches. The tree should be shaken well to note whether needles fall off or not. A local grown tree is preferred because they are cut a week or so before Christmas while the northern trees are some times cut as early as October.

It would do no harm to put the tree in a pail of water for a few days or allow the tree to remain in water during the time it is in the house which prevents the needles from falling off. Before putting the tree in water the rosin should be scrapped off the trunk of the tree where it was sawed or chopped off so as to allow absorbtion to take place.

The illumination of the tree by small electric lights does no harm or damage, but the higher watt or large electric lights often scorch the tree.

Arlington Theatre Humming with Holiday Events Now

The long coveted pie bakers in the Chinaware layout are scheduled for distribution next Thursday and Friday plus an added item of a new Crystal line being an expensive mixing bowl with holly pattern and rich stripes for Saturday, Dec. 22. Xmas novelties will be added to the general gift distribution of this week—a sort of double dose of cash and other prizes.

Sunday of this week brings Russ Colombo in his last picture. Colombo was likened to Valentino by movie fans and his sudden demise was a sad blow to those who loved his golden voice. Russ is gone, but his voice will live on in film archives. Hollywood mourns this romantic young star who climbed from tenement obscurity to the pinacle of fame.

Dolores Del Rio, she of the alluring voice, eyes and come hither, does DuBarry next week and those who have seen the picture give it a group of stars in the "audacious" columns.

Saturday, Dec. 22 brings a first run picture entitled "A Million Dollar Ransom." A special matinee starting at 2:30 will be given to accommodate the crowd who will undeniably crash the doors to get one of those mixing bowls that have the appearance of being worth twice the admission price and more. The bowl will also be given to the night patrons at the night shows.

Monday, Dec. 24, the theatre will be turned over to the Lions club of Arlington Heights for a benefit fund for underprivileged kiddies.

A New Year's Eve midnight show is announced and reservations going at a fast clip with two shows in one as the magnet. Irene Dunne and John Boles in "The Age of Innocence" is one of the vehicles being spoken of by the management so far. Lots of screen vaudeville and a 12 p. m. tableaux is another item announced so far with more in the offing. Six-day Bike Racer, Wagon Wheels, There's Always Tomorrow, Fugitive Lady, 365 Nites In Hollywood, Gift of Gab, Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, The Fountain, Lemon Drop Kid, Gay Divorcee and One Night of Love, are all due between now and January 6. A nice string of top notch features. Captain Hates the Sea is also on the way.

AL. BUSSE IN DETROIT TO SEE NEW CARS

Joins Party on Special Train as Guests of Manufacturers

Mr. Albert E. Busse of Mt. Prospect left Tuesday evening for a trip to Flint, Pontiac and Detroit, with the Pontiac and Buick dealers of the Chicago area, for a trip through the plants and proving grounds of these two most popular General Motors units. The group of dealers are traveling on a special train, which will be used as home and headquarters during the tour. Mr. Busse, accompanied by Mr. Ernest Busse of Park Ridge, are with a Pullman car full of dual-dealers,—those who handle both Pontiac and Buick cars. Many of the dealers on the special train handle only one car, and only a few will be fortunate enough to be in on the trips through both the Pontiac plant at Pontiac, Michigan and the Buick plant at Flint.

The preparations for leaving on the tour were made with considerable excitement, as rumors and half-confirmed reports were afloat that the new Pontiac, to which the dealers will be introduced at the plant will be new in a great many respects, and these reports have been so mysterious that there is a great anxiety on the part of Mr. Busse and his fellow dealers to get to Pontiac to see the new models, and find out what the models are for the new year. Enough has been given out unofficially to give the dealers assurance that they will have a popular car to offer for 1935.

Trips Through Plants

The special train will be set off on a side track at Pontiac Wednesday morning, and the dealers, as guests of the manufacturers, will be taken to the proving grounds at Milford, where they will see demonstrations of the methods used and of the new cars. In the afternoon Wednesday, they will be taken through the factory at Pontiac, and then to Detroit for dinner, where they will be the guests of the Pontiac makers. On Thursday the Buick dealers will go to Flint, to see the plant and proving grounds. The 1935 Buick has been announced, and there are to be no changes of any importance, as the makers and dealers agree that the 1934 model received sufficient public approval to warrant retaining it for 1935. Mr. Busse expects to be back in Mt. Prospect by Saturday morning.

Neglected Drainage Should be Checked To Prevent Losses

Should the spring of 1935 bring an unusual amount of rainfall, farming districts in many parts of Illinois where drainage systems have been neglected in recent years are likely to suffer serious losses, in the opinion of E. W. Lehmann, head of the agricultural engineering department at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Because of the severe economic depression and a series of dry seasons, little has been done in the way of maintaining efficient channels in some of the drainage districts in the best farming areas of the state, says Lehmann. In a number of instances the drainage ditches are in a poor state of repair, but the seriousness of their condition will not be realized fully until one or more wet seasons result in large crop losses.

In view of the possible crop risks, individual farmers might well afford to take the time and trouble to inspect their drain tile outlets to see if they are working effectively. If the ditch has filled in to the extent that the tile does not discharge freely, it should be cleaned out.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Observer's been to a movie show,
Right here in our own town,
Arlington's new theater you know
Made beautiful all up and down.
Believe it or not, saw Charley Chan
As live as live could be;
And the vigilant kindly manager man
And his lady all courtesy.
If you want to give a friend a treat,
A ticket to our theater couldn't be beat.

Attractive new red leather seats, everything new and up to date. The manager will allow no rude conduct or rough words in the halls or lobby. A discreet management, a first class theater—why not give it the liberal patronage it deserves.

Christmas is coming. Some grandpa's now remember "way back when" they used to watch and listen for the jingle of Mr. Guilds bells when he was sure to take them in the old bob sled all over town. Wonder how many of them remember "Uncle Billie" now?

The sore toe of the King of England or the ingrown grouch of Japan or France, mean as much or more than the illness of our next door neighbor did years ago, and Britains quints means more than a dear baby born to one of our near kin. Our worries and our vexation is so expanded and in like measure our worries are increased.

Wish I had time and strength to look after all these little children too often on the street, because of my inability to render this loving service. We are the more truly thankful for that splendid organization, the P. T. A. in which our thoughtful conscientious parents are joined with teachers in watchful care and supervision of child welfare.

O, the little children
Running everywhere;
Parents do you realize
They need your watchful care?

It matters not how weary
You may be today,
Just for their sake be cheery,
Put other cares away.

Compared unto your children,
Nothing is so worthwhile;
Keep them ever near you,
Join their play, and smile.

O, the little children,
Running down the street;
Little feet unwary,
Of many dangers they may meet.

They, your life employment,
And your sacred trust;
God holdeth you responsible,
Care for them you must.

O, the little children,
Running everywhere!
Parents, do you realize
God trusts them to your care?

Times may change, but it is the conduct of the people that makes the change. We used to be brought up on high ideals. We drank them in with our mother's milk. Don't blame this bottle fed defrauded generation for things they may be drinking in, with Melons food malted milk and other modern baby afflictions. Just hold fast to the faith of our fathers and be patient.

Get all fussed up myself over these changed conditions, try to adjust my thoughts to these trying problems and puzzles until my mind writhes into a sort of permanent wave over the distracting turns and turbulence of it all until I am worn weary. Glad I'm not running the world, yet I know God reigns and all will yet be well.

Speaking of the children, it seems a pity that in these times of financial depression they should be allowed to feel the stress of it, debt and due bills are too often discussed in the children's hearing. We read of the way father's fail in home studies help. A boy came from school entering the room eagerly asked his father to please tell him "What is dew" the father laid aside his paper went to his desk and took out a bundle of bills.

Reading "due for water" due for fuel, due for rent and a whole burden of things. Due heavy on his mind, the poor lad explained that his teacher wanted to describe "dew" and was the boy bewildered by his father's explanation? Bet a cookie that boy's father wasn't a farmer—if he had been, he could have explained to his son all about even "Honeydew."

That reminds me of the good times our farmers are to have this week out at that party in Elk Grove. Not a church social or a turkey dinner can come up to the jolly good times the farmers have together when they stage a party or a picnic. The efficient Farm Adviser tells about it in that artistically put up paper Country Side. Better turn farmer and share their independent good times.

November went out taking away our song birds and our flowers. Bright chrysanthemums stayed long enough to decorate our dinner table and vie with the pretty basket of blossoms Mrs. Hofstetter so kindly sent to us from California, lavender in color, a pretty everlasting or immortal variety. Just like our dear, kind friend to send those pretty fadeless blossoms just typical of her loyal friendship.

Over on Belmont avenue, Mr. Kost had several carefully tended perpetual roses as November was near the end one bush near the street flaunted the most beautiful deep pink roses, even the morning of the 26th, I saw one rose as I passed by making a goodby greeting. The flowers are faded and gone. Now friends we must gather our friends about us and if we know any more needy than ourselves, extend a helping hand while the kettle sings and the warm fire glows on the hearth—"Adios" to summer.

November winds sweep over the meadow. In the course of nature, frost and cold must put the flowers to sleep. The memory of their loveliness is with us, and the sure knowledge that in due time they will live and come again to cheer us, and be sure the little golden dandelion will be the last to go.

The poplar leaves with fibre tough
Close to the trees pathetic cling;
November winds so cold and rough,
Beat them like some wild hungry thing.

The asters that in beauty swayed,
In purple plumes on all our way;
Their masses royal glory made,
Withered and stiff they're bowed today.

Our garden favorites are dead,
Bright zinias, all so stoutly brave
Late lifting each bright colored head,
As if defying winter's grave.

Over the panes, pathetic cling,
The morningglory's tendrils yet;
What cheer, what courage they did bring,
Daughter's of dawn we'll not forget.

The lily bells of lavender,
That late so airily were hung,
When summer breezes soft did stir
Now brown and seas dead stems are flung.

Their leaves, like flots of glossy silk,
That lately glistened in the sun,
Where sweet alysum white as milk,
Over the stone lies gray and dim.

Old winter's close upon their track,
Leaving destruction everywhere;
Today one small bright bloom came back,
To smile and bird song thrilled the air.

Over the roof like drifted snow,
Lie heaps of starry clematis;
Through sunny days, to let us know,
How much November makes us miss.

Yet here within sunshine will creep.
Our flowers ghosts will never chide
When mother nature bids them sleep,
Her time for waking them we'll bide.

The bright berries and crimson leaves,
All these today will linger still;
The sparrows chatter neath the eaves,
November wind is cold and chill.

Still in the early dawning light,
And in the sunsets ruddy glow;
Our flower colors richly show
And morning ever follows night.

Womens Club News Notes

A Christmas Sewing Bee, Dec. 15, is to be on the program Wednesday, at the usual time for the club meeting in the home of the president, Mrs. Jarvis. This is a regular session, but you are requested to bring your sewing.

Tuesday this week the president of the club, Mrs. Jarvis, with twelve members, attended a Twentieth Century Christmas party at Park Ridge. It was to them a most pleasing and enjoyable affair.

The members of the board were luncheon guests of Mrs. Jarvis Wednesday, December 5. Finishing their routine business and enjoying a delightful luncheon hour the board met the club members, held their regular session by attending the Arlington theater where they witnessed the film "Charley Chan in London." Free tickets to all club members in this up-to-date theater. The pictures were wonderfully well shown, the most pleasurable entertainment closing with a regular theater party. A choice luncheon served by the hospitable, courteous manager and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Godshaw, a partnership in courtesy, ability and a keen understanding as to all that is needed to make a fine success of their business, where the best pictures are presented in safe, clean surroundings where a self respecting public should be glad to go. All who saw Charley Chan in Arlington Theater, have warm praise for the splendid management, and wonder why we should endure the dangers of the city night life when we can see the best pictures at home.

Mrs. Mitzlaff with her chorus of fifteen voices are practicing for Christmas music. They are to sing for the Palatine Woman's club their Guest Day, December 18.

JUNIOR LEAGUE NOTES

The Junior League of the Arlington Heights Woman's club held their first Reciprocity Monday evening, December 10, and had as their guest speaker, Mrs. Ransom Kennicott, Sr., 7th District Conservation chairman of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Kennicott spoke on the various angles of conservation and her talk was enjoyed immensely by everyone present at this meeting. We were also very happy to have seven members of the Des Plaines Junior League with us at this time and these young ladies in turn invited us to attend the card party they are sponsoring on Monday evening, December 17. Miss Dorothy Kaeppel entertained us with one of her amusing character readings, and refreshments, daintily arranged on a table decorated with Santa Claus and red candles, were served by the social committee.

The next Junior League meeting will be a Christmas party on Friday evening, December 21, and it is hoped every member will make an effort to be present.

JUNIOR LEAGUE DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT, DEC. 29

The Arlington Heights Junior League is sponsoring a holiday dance on Saturday evening, December 29, at Mohawk Country club, Irving Park boulevard, Bensenville, Ill. Bids are $1.00 per couple and may be purchased from all Junior League members. Persons who attended the summer frolic this group of young ladies sponsored at Brae-Burn Country Club last summer voted it one of the grandest affairs they'd ever been to, so get your tickets early for this gala holiday dance which we are sure will be one of the memorable events in this year of 1934.

LOCAL CANARY AVIARY NOW MEMBER OF THE I. R. C. B. ASSOCIATION

We are informed that the recently announced Songhaven Aviaries of Arlington Heights, is now identified with the International Roller Canary Breeder's association.

On last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Bauer, proprietors of this business, were guest visitors of the Wisconsin Roller Canary Breeder's Club show and exhibit in Milwaukee under the auspices of the I. R. C. B. A., where some 500 of the finest singing canary stock was exhibited.

While the Songhaven Aviaries did not enter any of their own high rated pedigreed birds in this show, much of interest was gained from the show and Mr. Bauer states that Roller Canaries as home pets are becoming more popular every year.

For the convenience of the large number of canary pet fanciers in Arlington Heights, having one or more such pets in the home, Mr. Bauer wishes to inform readers that he offers a full line of highest grade foods and supplies at greater savings in cost than can be procured elsewhere. This is due to Mr. Bauer's contacts with large food and supply distributors thruout the country and because of large bulk purchases made for his own supply.

Mr. Bauer's stock of canaries offers a selection of very choice singers for the Christmas season as gifts.

Anniversary Plans Will Be Discussed By Scout Leaders

A major topic of discussion at Northwest Suburban Area council Boy Scout Commissioner's Staff meeting in Des Plaines Monday evening, will be plans for the observance of the twenty-fifth Anniversary of Scouting. An effort will also be made to co-ordinate with Regional and National programs. The Northwest Suburban council will inaugurate its Twenty-fifth Anniversary observance at annual meeting of the council in January.

Those who will attend the meeting are F. O. Proctor, scout commissioner; E. J. Anderson, field scout commissioner, and the following district and assistant district commissioners: Henry Lipofsky of Barrington; W. A. Miles and Herman McElhose of Arlington Heights; W. J. Imig, P. Mrs. Harry Garland

Helen Garland (nee Yeager) was born at Crete, Illinois February 3, 1888; was married in 1910 to Harry S. Garland and died in the University Research hospital in Chicago, December 5, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Garland were the parents of two children, a son, Harry, Jr., and a daughter, Elizabeth, now in their home with their father at Wauconda.

Since the early summer, Mrs. Garland has been an invalid and for the three months last passed a great sufferer. Everything that love and medical skill could do, was tried for her relief. All of no avail, about two weeks of her last days were spent in the hospital.

During the past three months Mrs. Blume had taken the care of her sister and her family in their Wauconda home.

About ten years since, Mr. and Mrs. Garland, with Mr. and Mrs. Blume, opened a florist business here under the name of Arlington Gardens. Into this business they put some noble and strenuous efforts. Mrs. Garland gave her best days, her strength and at last her life for the benefit of her family. She had a large heart, for all her friends. Her flowers cheered many a lonely one. Her kind and generous deeds can never be forgotten. She was "Our Helen" beloved by us who knew her.

Mrs. Garland leaves beside her husband, son and daughter in the home, seven sisters, and two brothers, to mourn and miss her here. In the home with her family now are Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Blume. Mrs. Blume has given up her own home to care for her sister. Other of the sisters have also assisted in her care. To all who knew her, she meant much. The funeral was held in Arlington Heights in Lauterburg and Oehler's funeral chapel Saturday afternoon. Dr. H. A. Kossack, Mrs. Garland's pastor and friend, preached the sermon, an urge to revive and keep the true Christian faith, a strong comforting sermon.

The burial was in the Garland family lot in Maine township cemetery.

There were masses of beautiful flowers as loving tokens of respect and esteem for the one who brought us flowers. Her friends and neighbors in Arlington Heights especially those to whom she so often came, will deeply miss Helen. And all join in sincere sympathy to her family who will miss her as time goes on.

Why weep for Helen here today
And sad lamenting make?
Free from this poor worn house of clay
In joy she did awake.

Husband and son and daughter dear,
Sisters so loving, true and kind,
Hopes star will shine to guide you here.
To where your loved you'll find.

She was our queen of flowerland,
Now in God's gardens fair;
He lets her tend with her dear hand
The glorious blossoms there.

She was so much of us a part,
Here we will miss her so;
Yet well we know from her dear heart
For us, her love will flow.

Each day of life's far journey drear,
Brings nearer Heaven's gate,
To welcome all she so loved here,
In joy will Helen wait.

She was our queen of flowerland,
Her flowers for all did grow;
Sometime God grant we'll understand,
Why from us she must go.
From one who loved Helen.

Food Will be Admission To Grade School Program

A can of beans or other foodstuffs will be the admission to the Christmas program which pupils of the Arlington Heights North school are planning to have December 21. The proceeds are to go to Miss Martha Jackson, local health nurse, who will give the food to poor people who are temporarily in great need.

The program will be held in the Presbyterian church, and will feature a play, "One Gift Above Another" given by the grade school's dramatic club under the direction of Miss Aloise Henning. Singing by the group will be directed by Miss Fern Lorenzen.

Lois Bolte and Rudy Stein Out in Front In Popularity Contest

With the contest in its last stages and coming to a close soon, the race develops into a skirmish between 4 or 5 for leading positions. Rudy Stein is out in front on a count up to Tuesday night past with over 13,000 votes to the good. With lots of ballots outstanding and not as yet dropped in the ballot box and with a lot of interest manifested in the Bolte splurge, the standing might alter a great deal in the last few days of the contest. Steve Szasz promises to crowd the winners and prove to be the leading dark horse and whispers of 20,000 or more votes he has not revealed yet. Marlene Deiterich can be considered as a last moment candidate and coming through with a big vote. All votes, slips given out now at the theatre box office are giving 200 votes to each candidate. Votes will be given out extra on Sunday and Monday of this week, Dec. 16 and 17, counting for 50 votes each. These votes will be given to all the Sunday patrons, adults and children alike. Standing to date on all votes counted:

Rudy Stein, 82,500; Lois Bolte, 79,600; John Angeloff, 65,900; Ruth Wenzel, 54,200; Bernice Deiterich, 49,300; Rose Kelling, 33,800; Esther Kehe, 32,700; Marv Bird, 32,700; John Ladas, 30,600; Bill Jerousek, 29,600; Steve Szasz, 27,900; Mary Jane Michael, 21,900; Mildred Becker, 18,300; Helene Menark, 20,600; Dolores Hoffman, 17,900; Marjorie Dobbins, 16,800; Evelyn Bolek, 15,400; Harry Greinke, 19,900; Harold Redeker, 18,600; Dorothy Hanauer, 16,200; Lillian Lindstrom, 16,100; Geo. Renner, 11,400; Jane Dearie, 10,200; Marjorie Nelson, 7,400. Another dozen or more are running close together with standings of 5,500 up to 7,000.

More and more the citizens of the surrounding towns are becoming familiar with the great humanitarian acts the Eagles are trying to accomplish, and have accomplished throughout the country.

More and more are they realizing what the Eagles truly stand for. How the Eagles take care of their sick and their poor through the wonderful benefit system of which each member is entitled.

Is it any wonder that there are so many inquiries received at the Eagles Club Rooms in Park Ridge from people interested in becoming members of this Order?

With the rate applications are being received from all classes of people in the towns of Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Mt. Arlington High School Students Enjoy Players

The Pollard Players, presented "The Pre-Intimate Stranger," in three acts before the Arlington Heights high school assembly last week. It was an excellent high grade production and greatly enjoyed by the students.

This was the third of seven general essembly programs arranged for the year. The two previously given were Miss Sellers, whistler and bird imitator and Mr. Pyor, dramatic reader of Shakespearian plays. The coming events are:

Dec. 20, Metropolitan Jubilee Singers, a negro quartette that took part in the Chicagoland music festival.

Jan. 10, E. Stanley Brooks, dramatic reader, specializing in Chas. Dickens stories.

Jan. 24, the Ambassador quartette.

Feb. 11, The Century Musical Co.

May 13, J. Zellner, dramatic reader.

These programs are being given at very low cost to the individual student. The first three programs did not average over 5c per pupil.

Master Show, "Crazy Politics" Here Thursday

Returns for One Night Under Auspices of Legion Post

That master musical stage show "Crazy Politics" that played for three nights last October at the St. James school hall, is going to be repeated for one night only, Thursday, December 20, at the Arlington Heights high school auditorium, with the same cast that played it before. It was such an exceptionally good show and so well put on by our own community amateur players, that this return show is really a result of popular demand by those who did not see it. Even a good number of those who did see the play, expressed the desire to see it again. So it must be a good show.

"Crazy Politics" is an up-to-date master musical comedy. There is singing and dancing by good looking chorus girls from our high school led by Gloria Sandberg and songs by the Singing Politicians composed of a large group of well known ladies of town. There is a comedy song "No Matter What It Is, I'm Against It" put on by Jimmy Bown, Buddy McKaig, Curly Rodewald and Art Lauterburg. There is singing by the entire cast. There is the political parade led by the German band. Many prominent citizens and business men of our town are in the show. There is Judge Kopplin as Jim Froley, the political boss; Raoul Peeters as Simpson, his nervous secretary; Charlie Paddock as Butch Burgess, the married man who has to be home by 9 o'clock; Jimmy Bown, the lead of the show, as Pat O'Donnell the wise-cracking newspaper reporter impersonating the famous Mrs. Van Dyne; Art Lauterburg as Dr. Jeffery and the little French maid; Buddy McKaig as Watson and the cute little 12-year old daughter; Curley Rodewald as Judge Fisher and the lady secretary; George Palmer as Rollins, the ardent 60-year old lover; Warren Parker as Ivan Awfulitch, the terrible Bolshevik; Les Griffith as Abie Goldberg, the Jew—'oi-oi'; Frank Sachs as Sam Jenkins, a persistent politician; Vincent Hand as Spider McGinnis, the tough gang leader; Vic Pecchia and Martin Goerger as Dope and Duke, two hardboiled gangsters; Charlie O'Hagan as Ward, the young reporter; and last, but not least, Bill Luehring and John Firnbach as two cops—good looking but tough.

And the actresses of the show include Eleanor Fredericks as Sally Carter, the pretty girl reporter; Peggy Rubner as Julia Rollins, in love with and at the same time disgusted with Simpson, the nervous secretary; Mrs. J. A. Wisersky as Mrs. Watson, who keeps a jealous eye on her husband; "Toots" Saar as Mamma Goldberg, who has a terrible time keeping track of Papa Goldberg; and Ora Toussaint as Beulah Higginbottom, head of the Women's Willing Workers. Mrs. Frank Cizek is the pianist and together with Mrs. Brynaldson assist in the musical production of the show. What a cast and what a show. It is a scream from start to finish with a laugh every minute.

This return engagement is being sponsored by our own Merle Guild American Legion Post and all proceeds are to be used for community service work in Arlington Heights. The combination of such a worthy cause and such a good show should make it well worth while to patronize. Tickets may be bought at Sieburg's Drug Store, the American Legion Home (Tel. Arl. Hts. 1572) and at the door of the high school the night of the show. All seats are reserved and ticket holders should present their tickets at Sieburg's Drug Store for this purpose. Seats also may be reserved at the high school the night of the show, but for the better seats, tickets should be reserved at Sieburg's Drug Store in advance. Because the show is playing for one night only, advance information points to packed house and the Merle Guild Post suggests that tickets be bought and reserved as soon as possible before there is a sell out.

Bread Is Best

Statistics are said to prove that bread is the most nourishing food in proportion to its price, followed by peas, potatoes, butter, cheese, milk, apples, eggs, cod and beefsteak, in that order. — Answers Magazine.

Arlington Woman's Club Member Praises Local Movie Programs

All Arlington Heights people should note with pride, the current films that our local theatre manager is bringing to us. It is to be hoped that we will be able to continue to have all these late pictures but this can only be done by supporting the theatre locally, instead of going to the neighboring towns. Watch the ads for coming attractions, then be a home town booster by waiting until they appear at our own theatre.

Mr. Godshaw, the manager, is certainly to be complimented for his endeavors to bring us the latest and the best films.

Two of the week's coming films, "Wake Up and Dream" and "Servants' Entrance" are recommended in the Parent's Magazine as family films.

ARLINGTON HTS.

What is the news? Most that we hear,
Cold weather, snow and Christmas near;
Sad tales of need, of want and woe,
Those needing most, let no one know;
Some hearts are sad for loved ones gone,
Still God in mercy leads them on.
Our town in debt, much the same here,
Coal bills and taxes come to cheer;
Riots of spending mark the way,
We wisely save for a future day;
This isn't news, then tell us where
To get news wouldn't make you swear?

One who has to report and observe our Christmas business activities, wonders why merchants fail to put prices on goods or articles displayed in their windows. By so doing, they will gain larger trade and save clerks trouble in finding prices for would be purchasers.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"God the Only Cause and Creator," was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 9.

The Golden Text was, "The Lord is the true God, he is the living God and an everlasting king: . . . He hath made the earth by his power he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion" (Jeremiah 10:10, 12).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is none else" (Deut. 4:39).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is individual, incorporeal. He is divine Principle, Love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no other self-existence. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual" (p. 331).

If you are finding the days before Christmas slipping away too quickly, you may like this poem we read recently written by Grace Noll Crowell.

God knew that children could not wait,
There would be such a flurry,
Unless the dark December days
Should pass by in a hurry,
And so he made these shortest days
That Christmas would not be delayed.

And Zip—they go, the little days,
With long, long nights of sleeping,
And scarcely any time at all
For bursty secret-keeping;
With only time enough to run
And get a gift for every one.

For Your Own Good—
Pay Your Taxes NOW, and AT HOME!
Don't deceive yourself, the longer you delay in paying your tax bill the more it is going to cost you and the community.

You Save

1—Interest and penalty costs.

2—Time and convenience. (You can pay now at your local bank; after December 24 you must make your payments at the County Building in Chicago.)

The Community Saves

1—Interest on tax warrants (which is a part of your tax bill).
2—Additional frozen assets. (Tax money paid at home is IMMEDIATELY distributed to the local tax group, otherwise a delay of from 3 to 6 months is caused in distribution involving additional cost in interest. Your schools and your city will receive 75 cents of every tax dollar you pay and in turn will immediately use that money to pay past due and current bills, teachers' salaries and retire tax warrants. Nearly every cent in turn will be distributed and circulated locally. WHY SEND MORE MONEY OUT OF TOWN?)

You can do no more patriotic duty to your own community and yourself than by paying your tax bill now and at home

The Local Collector will have the 1933 Tax Books until
December 24
Why let the county handle YOUR Tax Money?

The undersigned seriously urge you to consider these facts:

Clothing is Needed By Local Relief Men Working for Village

The discovery that relief workers on village projects have been working out in the winter cold in insufficient clothing, and some even without underwear, has led A. H. Schmidt, village trustee who is supervising the workers, to issue a plea to Palatine people.

Mr. Schmidt asks that anyone having any clothing or warm underwear which the men on relief could utilize call him and he will see that it gets to the proper men. Mr. Schmidt can be telephoned at Palatine 232 or Palatine 103-R.

AT THE CATLOW

The selection from the Oven Dinnerware set for women patrons continues to be a popular Saturday night feature.

Ketti Gallian is a new star, one that you will find a place for in your memory after seeing her in the title role of "Marie Gallante," the feature attraction Sunday and Monday. Spencer Tracy is costarred in this story of intrigue and mystery centering about the Panama Canal. "Mrs. Wiggs of The Cabbage Patch" which is scheduled to play the Catlow next week Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, makes even more vivid the appeal that lies in this homespun story of the family that lived on the wrong side of the tracks. Pauline Lord will play Mrs. Wiggs; ZaZu Pitts, Miss Hazy; and W. C. Fields, the mail-order soul mate. Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor and five clever youngsters complete the roster of leading characters. 'Can Animals Think?' 'Yes,' Says Lions' Speaker

The question "Can animals think?" was answered last week by Al Priddy, for many years a circus man and animal lover, in his talk before the Palatine Lions Club. That the Lions are interested in this subject was evidenced by the fact that the club had its largest attendance of the year—eighteen members and seven guests.

The meeting was opened by First Vice President Iler promptly at the starting time, and when President Puffer arrived late he was fined for tardiness by the tail-twister, Dr. Clayton.

Ernest Iler was presented with a key as a reward for securing two new members. Dr. Clayton was presented with a chevron, to be worn in connection with the Lions emblem lapel button, awarded by Lions International for having served faithfully as a member for more than ten years. Three new members, Adolph Godknecht, Henry J. Harz and Pieter Vervloet, were received with ceremony.

Preceding the speaker, Miss Elva Ball entertained with her imitations of grand opera singers, Ozark hill billy characters and Western piano artists. She played equally well on the piano, harmonica, accordian, and showed versatility in playing on two harmonicas at once. Miss Ball also sang and whistled. She was appropriately costumed, and all present admired her imported stockings. She kept her listeners in continuous laughter.

Mr. Priddy prefaced his remarks with his definition of "think" as having the power of deductive reasoning. His first example concerned, not a wild animal, but a blooded house cat, who, its mistress claimed, was the dumbest creature on four legs. "Why," she said, "He hasn't enough sense to wiggle through a screen door." Mr. Priddy offered to show that the cat was not as dumb as that, and in twenty minutes made friends and coaxed him as far as the screen door. Then, standing outside, he produced a piece of liver. The cat made a lunge at the door, hesitated slightly, and got caught amidships. Later, trying trick again, the cat got as far as the door but could not be urged to rush through, because "the cat was too smart to get caught twice in the same manner."

The next example concerned Jerry, the singing mule. Jerry was merely a rundown mule which the "animal chef" had purchased with other animals for fresh meat. One of the trainers happened to walk past the corral and noticed that the dilapidated mule perked up its ears and watched his every movement. The trainer approached, and whistled to the mule, who answered with braying. The trainer discovered that the mule brayed every time he whistled a certain tone. Believing the mule had possibilities, he bought the animal from the chef and in a very short time taught it to sing in tune with the clown band. Thus the ambitious mule saved his own life and became famous as the only singing mule in the world.

One time the elephant house caught fire while in winter quarters. The night crew failed to smother the fire and it gained rapidly. The well-trained elephants waited for orders until the heat became unbearable. The leader then crashed through the wall and headed straight for the sleeping quarters of the elephant trainers. The circus authorities claimed that the men might have burned in their beds had it not been for the thoughtful heroism of the animal. Proof that animals, even in their wild state, have good memories was noticed by Mr. Priddy when the show was playing in Honolulu. Keepers had transferred a black maned Nubian lion, newly acquired by the circus, from one cage to another. The opposite door was not hooked properly and the lion broke loose. He roamed around the menagerie tent until he came to the bears which were chained at one end in scenery representing ice bergs. The frightened polar bears scrambled up the highest crag, but the Alaskan grizzly gave no evidence of fear. When the lion approached and roared for attention, he got it from the powerful paw of the grizzly which sent the king of beasts tumbling back into the aisle. The lion actually was glad to get back into his cage. Thereafter, whenever the lion became unruly, the keepers had only to haul his cage past the grizzly bears to subdue him.

The last and probably the most interesting story was about Skippy, the baby chimpanzee, which was found deserted in the jungle by a circus party. The chimp, too young for circus life, was given to the little daughter of one of the officials. Skippy, so named because he seemed always to be jumping in peoples' way, insisted on sleeping in a bed. At last he was given a bed of his own, which he took pride in making up each morning. The girl had taught him also to clean his teeth with brush and paste, bathe with soap in a shower, sit in a high chair for meals, wearing a napkin and using silverware.

Then Skippy was old enough to join the circus, Mr. Priddy paid him a visit. He arrived early, before Skippy was up, and decided to play a joke on him by hiding his tooth brush. Skippy was heard to arise, make his bed, enter the bathroom — then the commotion started. By the time the people got upstairs, the entire room was in confusion. Towels strewn around, window shade torn to shreds, medicine chest ripped from the wall and broken medicine battles covered the floor—Skippy couldn't find his tooth brush.

Mr. Priddy proved himself a showman by stating that the Lions had heard the first of his seventeen talks about animals and circus life, and expressed the hope that he would be invited again and again to complete his story.

Pupils Write Essays Telling of FHA Work

Students in the Arlington Heights Elementary and high schools are taking part in an essay contest which will acquaint them better with their home and its needs, the Federal Housing act, and what it can do for the community. "What modernization means to my home or to my community" is the topic upon which they are writing.

The contest is being carried on as a regular part of the school work through the efforts of the local FHA committee. The committee plans a house-to-house canvass to study housing needs and modernizing possibilities in the community, but the date for beginning this work has not yet been decided.

First Principal Gives Books to Library of Palatine H. School

The Palatine township high school was again honored recently by having as a visitor Judge Charles S. Cutting, who was the first principal of the school. Judge Cutting has made enumerable gifts to the school during the years past, and he again brought a large number of books which make a very valuable addition to the library. Among the volumes which he gave the school on this occasion are:

"The World—Historical and Actual," Gilbert; "History for Ready Reference and Topical Reading" (6 vols.), Larned; "Narrative and Critical History of America" (8 vols.), Winsor; "The Growing World"; "Chicago and Cook County" (3 vols.), Waterman.

"History of Illinois Republicanism," Raum; "Historical Encyclopedia of Illinois" (5 vols.), Bateman and Selby; "History of Chicago" (2 vols.), Moses and Kirkland; "History of Cook County, Illinois," Andreas; "History of Illinois, the Heart of the Nation" (5 vols.), Gov. Dunne; and "Geological Survey of Illinois," Worthen.

These books will be particularly useful in the work of the history and civics department for they contain detailed and interesting information rarely available. The school is very appreciative of the great interest which Judge Cutting has continued to show in it during these many years when he has always kept in close touch with its needs.

Missionary's Work In City Is Explained

"I wish we would eliminate terms of contempt such as 'nigger,' 'dago' and 'shinney' from our conversation," Dr. John Thompson of Chicago Temple said discussing his extensive missionary work among 25 foreign groups in his talk following a "cover dish" supper at the Palatine Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday evening.

Dr. Thompson stressed the importance of being open minded in human relationships, to think of nationality and not races, to think of all men as human beings.

The well-known Methodist clergyman has organized eight churches among the colored people in the city. In his friendship and work with the negro churches, Dr. Thompsoin has come to understand their problems.

"The colored are the first to be laid off and the last to be taken on in depression times. Right now 70 or 80 per cent of them are unemployed."

The Methodist Episcopal missionary society of the church with which Dr. Thompson is associated, has saved 20 churches of the denomination which were literally laid at their doorstep. The society has also helped 90 per cent of the churches in Cook county.

The secret of his success in raising money for the church Dr. Thompson believes, is the fact that he never asks a man really to give.

"I ask for an investment. Money given to the church is an investment in the childhood, young man and woman-hood of a community," the preacher explained.

Parties Mark Year End for Palatine Chapter O. E. S.

Three parties mark the year's end for Palatine Chapter of the Eastern Star. Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeBerge, worthy patron and matron were hosts Saturday evening, Dec. 1, to the officers of the chapter. A full course dinner was served in the dining hall of the chapter and was followed by an evening at cards in the chapter room. It was a most satisfying repast and the evening proved delightful. The past year has been a most happy 12 months for the various officers of the chapter. This event which practically marked the farewell to each other as a group, more firmly cement the bonds of friendship which seems more tightly cemented on account of the common interests they have experienced during the term of Mr. and Mrs. DeBerge in the East.

Officers Are Hosts

The officers were hosts last Thursday evening to Mr. and Mrs. DeBerge at a dinner served in a Barrington restaurant and followed by a theatre party at the Catlow. During the evening a gift of silver was presented to Mrs. DeBerge, which she informed her officers completed that she is pleased to term, "my Eastern Star dining room set." It was a gay party that was seated around two large tables. Unique place cards depicting traits of the individual, caused a lot of merriment, but were easily recognized by the individuals.

Chapter Party to Follow Election

Following the election of officers which occurs this Friday evening there will be a Christmas party for the members. Everyone is asked to bring some inexpensive gift to be exchanged. There will be a special program and a Santa Claus. A large attendance from the membership is urged as the committee is making large plans.

Effect of Education

Jud Tunkins says education is mighty important. A man may get in bad not so much because of his ideas as because of his vocabulary.

BENEFITS OF FHA ARE TOLD AT MEETING

$3500 Has Already Come To Palatine Says De Pue

What home modernizing under the Federal Housing act and what future activities of the FHA can mean to Palatine were discussed Tuesday night at the meeting of the local FHA committee. So far, without an active campaign, the FHA has brought $3,500 to Palatine, according to William H. DePue, general chairman.

But, if as a result of an active campaign and an awakening of homeowners, half of the 750 homes and business buildings in Palatine have an average of $100 spent for repairs, painting, or modernizing, $20,000 to $30,000, a sum nearly 10 times as large as that $3,500 can be brought into the community and put into circulation here.

The local campaign will seek to urge work to be done by local men, to purchase materials locally, and to keep the money as much as possible in Palatine, and so to benefit the community, both by the improvements made and by the employment created.

National benefits in reducing unemployed and in ever-spreading circles of employment were described to the meeting by K. C. Griswald, construction engineer, who was among the men who first worked out the modernizing plan seven years ago, and is now in charge of the northern 16 counties of Illinois for the FHA.

Increased activity in the building industry, dormant for more than three years, will bring work to more than 4,000,000 workmen, Mr. Griswald stated. Not only will it bring work to the carpenters, masons, plumbers, electricians, painters, and others directly engaged in the work, but also to the millions whose work it is to procure, prepare, and transport the materials.

Substitute for Sugar

Saccharine is a white crystalline substance used as a substitute for sugar. It is a coal tar derivative, several hundred times sweeter than sugar, but it is not a food and is unchanged in digestion. It is used commercially in a number of ways; specifically, in beverages and in vegetables and fruits canned for low carbohydrate diets.

WHEAT CHECKS ARE GIVEN OUT FOR LAST YEAR

Farm Bureau Office Was Crowded by Farmers Calling for Share

There are many happy farmers this week among those who raise wheat crops. They received notices last Saturday that their checks from Uncle Sam as a part of the wheat control program, were awaiting their signature at the office of the Cook County Farm Bureau. These farmers are now poking fun at those cartoonists for certain of the big newspapers who, during the past year or more, tried to have a little fun at the expense of the farmer by showing cartoons of farmers driving their hogs to market which they didn't raise; and they have also tried to make sport of reducing corn and wheat production.

At the beginning of this program there was a good deal of misgiving felt among the farmers, themselves as to whether such a program was based on a firm foundation. That point has passed and it is now recognized that the program is sound and that it is productive of higher prices for farm commodities.

This has resulted in a flow of money all over the entire United States. Here in the state of Illinois, it has meant not only an increase in the sale price but in the amount of the farm income of thousands of families in the price of the crop itself. In addition there has been a bonus payment to these same farm families of many thousands of dollars. Today is a red letter day in this agricultural program, and here in Cook county we are feeling one of the benefits of it, for today there have been a great many checks passed out by the Cook County Farm Bureau to farmers who signed up for the wheat control program.

This money represents clear profit to the farmer as it is a bonus payment for the year of 1933. This payment is being made as a reward for co-operating with the control program which is intended to reduce the surplus of wheat, raised in the United States. It is a matter of common knowledge among economists and all informed people that for the past several years our foreign market for grain and live stock have practically disappeared, and as a consequent result surpluses of both meat and grain have accumulated which depressed the market far below the cost of production. In order to save our farming group from further losses and resultant foreclosures of farm mortgages, it became necessary that something be done to correct the situation.

"As Thousands Cheer" In Closing Weeks of Chicago Run

Although the great popularity of "As Thousands Cheer" has made it necessary to extend the Chicago run of this gilt-edged revue beyond its original booking at the Grand Opera House, it is now announced that the end of the successful run is in sight and will probably occur on Saturday night, December 29. Other cities have contracted to see this famous Irving Berlin-Moss Hart entertainment, and the fulfillment of these contracts cannot be longer postponed.

One reason why "As Thousands Cheer" is meeting with as great success on the road as it did in New York, where it remained for 50 solid weeks, is that Sam H. Harris, the producer, is presenting the big show everywhere precisely as it was given at the Music Box theatre on Broadway, with the original cast of stars, headed by Clifton Webb, Helen Broderick, Dorothy Stone and Ethel Waters, and their large supporting company of 80, together with the sumptuous production which requires five baggage cars to transport it from city to city.

There are twenty-two scenes in "As Thousands Cheer," despite which the curtain is down by 11 o'clock, the speed of the many scenic changes being one of the novel features of the revue.

By this time the laughable skits lampooning the great and the near great are well known. They include side-splitting take-offs on the Hoovers, the Rockefellers, the British royal family, Barbara Hutton and her Prince Mdivani, Joan Crawford, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Mhatma Gandhi, Aimee Semple MacPherson, Ramsey MacDonald, Josephine Baker, Noel Coward and Lynn Fontane. Irving Berlin's musical numbers include "Heat Wave, "Lonely Heart," "The Funnies," "Her Easter Bonnet," "Supper Time," "Our Wedding Day," "I've Got Harlem On My Mind," "Not For All The Rice In China" and others. There are also numerous spectacles and colorful effects, one of the most beautiful being the Easter Parade on Fifth avenue in New York of 1883, which for sheer beauty has never been surpassed on any stage.

Unusual Results

Last weeks' results in the conference cage race are unusual in that the winners of the heavyweight games also won the lightweight contests. We don't remember a time prior to this when all won double victories on the same night. What is more unusual is the fact that three of the winning schools were playing away from home.

The only real close game was the Palatine-Libertyville battle. The Wildcats lost by one point but its our guess that they don't lose many games this year and will still play a very important part in deciding the championship.

Palatine appears to be every bit as good as last season particularly if they can start hitting the loop a little more regularly. They had 60 shots in the Libertyville game with but 8 registering. They have not hit their stride at tossing free throws either.

Arlington Wins

Arlington stepped off on the right foot at the expense of Antioch. We had picked Antioch to trim them. Had not noticed before but the Cardinals have the schedule made to order for them this year as the three teams they do not play are among the four strongest in the league. Palatine, Libertyville and Leyden are not met by the Grose five this year which is some break. Arlington should finish no lower than third with Barrington the only outstanding team on their schedule.

We hear that Johnson has some hot shots at Bensenville who can hit from any distance. Pilgrim is supposed to be a sensation in his first year. We don't know who was the big scorer when Bensenville beat Warren. Bensenville always has a high scoring team and they may be the dark horse of the race.

Top Scorers

Leroy Pflug of Wauconda, diminutive forward, takes the honors for the best scoring performance on the opening night with 14 points as Leyden was defeating his team. Bishop of Antioch ranks second with 13 points of his team's 24 as they lost to Arlington.. Reuse of Palatine and Etters of Barrington tied for third with 11 points.. Their teams were winners. Reuse's 11 points made up half of Palatine's total in their 22 to 21 victory over Libertyville.

The prize rally to win was recorded at Palatine where their lightweights won 22 to 15 after trailing 15 to 10 at the start of the last period. Palatine and Leyden lights who tied for the title last year do not meet this season.

Des Plaines Teams Lose To White Aces 41-26; Blue Aces 47-36 Tues.

Arlington Heights' White and Blue Ace basketball teams each won a victory Tuesday night when they were hosts to Des Plaines teams. The White Aces won 41-26. and the Blue Aces 47-36.

The White Aces won when the visitors forfeited the game by walking off the floor with 2 minutes left to play. The game had been even and hard-fought. What started out to be a close game for the Blue Aces turned out to be not so hard when the Achome team showed their heels in the second half.

WISCONSIN VS. MARQUETTE

Wisconsin's basketball team swings into action in its first major game tomorrow night with Marquette as the opponents at Madison.

SPECTACULAR RALLY BRINGS LIGHTS AHEAD

Palatine Teams Down Libertyville 22-15; 22-21 in Uphill Games

Both Palatine teams surmounted one of the greatest obstacles in their path to a repitition of last year's double championship when they took a double victory from Libertyville last Friday evening on the home court. The Lightweights won 22 to 15 with a spectacular last quarter rally while the heavyweights also came from behind to nose out the visitors 22 to 21.

Trailing at the start of the last period by a score of 15 to 10 the Pirate lights ran wild for 12 points in the last period while Libertyville was being held scoreless. Mess shot three baskets in as many shots in the first three minutes of the quarter. The Palatine team made six baskets in 11 shots in their big rally.

Big Elvis Foster was leading scorer of the game with nine points, closely followed by Mess with eight counters. Dishinger of Libertyville tied Foster for top honors with nine points. The Pirate lights appeared greatly improved over their former exhibitions.

The Palatine regulars fought an uphill battle all the way due to inability to hit free throws during the first half. Baskets by Reuse and Hahnfeldt gave the home team a 4 to 2 lead at the quarter but Brown and Stickles scoring gave Libertyville a 9 to 8 lead at the half. Palatine missed six free throws in as many chances in the first half.

Stickels and Worthen paced the scoring of Reuse and Hahnfeldt in the third period which found Libertyville still ahead 18 to 17. Hahnfeldt tied the score when fouled by Isaacson and Perry drove in fast to score a rebound shot about a minute later to give Palatine the lead for the first time since the initial quarter. Isaacson tied the score with his first and only basket, but Reuse dribbled away for a setup and the winning basket. Stickles free throw was followed by three and one half minutes of stalling on the part of Palatine, who in this period, had many set up shots, but could not increase their lead.

Reuse, Palatine captain, played the best game of his career and ranked head and shoulders above any man on the floor in quality of work. Reuse scored in every quarter for a total of 11 points. Stickles and Brown were outstanding for Libertyville. Palatine's inability to score free throws and Libertyville's unusual record of 11 out of 14 made the game a close one. Palatine made 5 field goals in 59 shots while Libertyville had 5 out of 39.

St. James C. Y. O. Team Wins from St. Cornelia 27-9 in Sunday's Game

The St. James C. Y. O. basketball team opened its season with an impressive 27 to 9 victory over St. Cornelia, Sunday. The losers put a big, fast team on the floor, with plenty of power in it. The victors showed excellent passing and a tight, shifting defense. Neither team hit consistently.

The game throughout the first half was closely fought. With about 5 minutes left in that period, Arlington trailed, 8-5. Following a time out, the local boys opened a beautiful passing attack, which sent F. Brodnan under the basket to score. J. Long and Stefanik collected follow-up shots before the half ended to bring the count to 11-8. The passing game worked consistently in the second half, sending McKaig, O'Hagan, and L. Brodnan under the basket unguarded. Missed set-up shots cost them a forty point score.

W. Annen looked good at center, especially on defense. McKaig and F. Brodnan were the guards, and played in mid-season form. Louis Brodnan settled down during the second half and passed very well, while Louis Stefanik was the usual battler under the basket. A season of C. Y. O. play has made O'Hagan and J. Long valuable additions to the squad. Another substitute at center was discovered when Doyle broke into the lineup. All league games this season will be played at St. Hedwig's gym, on Touhy avenue near Niles.

NORTHWESTERN VS. PITTSBURGH

Northwestern university's basketball team meets its sternest competition of the season tonight when Pittsburgh, champions of the East, invades Patten gymnasium for the annual encounter with the Wildcats. The Panthers defeated Northwestern 27-23 last year.

PREP PLAYERS GUESTS

High basketball squads and accompanying coaches and faculty-men will be guests tonight at the Illinois-Wabash game in Champaign.

Arlington Wins 28-24; Bensenville Takes Warren

CONFIDENCE IS WATERLOO FOR ANTIOCH

Cardinals Take Leads and Keep Them; Lights Win 16-12

Arlington's Cardinals surprised themselves by annexing a double header at Antioch last Friday in their conference basketball opener. The Cards capitalized on a bit of overconfidence on the part of Antioch, got a start out in front, and stayed there all the rest of the game. Arlington Heavies won 28-24; the light 16-12.

Antioch also was handicapped by the fact that neither Steffenberg nor Thill were in top condition. The former played the whole game, however, but Thill saw service only for a few minutes.

Alert, aggressive play won for Arlington in both games. They broke in behind Antioch repeatedly for close shots and on defense kept Antioch pretty well bottled up. Hertel and Rohlwing led in the scoring, but had Gieseke sunk a goodly per cent of his close up shots he would have outscored his mates. Weisgerber smothered Steffenberg, and until George went out on personals the Antioch star had not scored from the field. However, when he did start, Steffenberg rolled in three goals in a hurry.

Bishop was high scorer of the evening and stamped himself as one of the best offensive men in the league. Hawkins, too, played a good game.

Arlington used an even dozen men in the lightweight game, splitting the time almost equally. None were in long enough to get well warmed to the job, but out of the group the starting lineup of one Frosh and four Sophs looked best.

Arlington C. A. C. Girls Lost to Barrington 14-9

Arlington Height's C. A. C. girls basketball team lost a practice game at Barrington 14-9 Tuesday night. Another pre-season game was scheduled to be played at Park Ridge last night.

Although the league's season starts next Friday, the Arlington girls will not play their first schedule game until December 28, when they will go to Glenview.

New Auto Licenses Are Now On Sale In Chicago Office

Distribution of the first batch of Illinois 1935 automobile license plates was started last week Tuesday by Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, and sale of plates "over the counter" began Thursday at Springfield and at the automobile division of the Chicago office at 120 South Ashland boulevard.

The 1935 plates have marine blue figures and letters on a field of battleship gray. The plates are the same size as last year but the inscription, "Illinois, 1935" is at the top of the numerals, the reverse of last year.

Many motorists are under the impression that they are required to buy a new certificate of title this year and are adding 50c to their regular fee for this purpose. Secretary Hughes points out that the present titles are good for the life of the car or until it passes into the hands of a new owner.

From the Chicago office the secretary's staff will serve all applicants living in Cook county. Its geographic location makes it readily accessible to those in this area.

BRONCO GAME AT ARLINGTON FEATURE TILT

Victory Will Give Cardinals Inside Track for Championship

The schedule for the week looks like a good one with the Barrington game at Arlington topping the list. If Barrington is really as good as they are rated, the Cardinals should drop from the unbeaten ranks. A win for the Cardinals would place them on the inside track to the championship because of the schedule. Grose has a scrappy outfit who can hit baskets, but they probably will find their small stature a great handicap against Etters, Latta and Mollenkamp, the six-footers of the Broncho team.

The games between Antioch at Bensenville and Warren at Leyden should be good ones. The Antioch-Bensenville tilt brings a couple of high scorers together and as both teams use a last break some interesting basketball will be served up to the DuPage fans. Odds on this game are even. Leyden will probably have too much power for Warren.

Libertyville should chalk up their first victory at Ela. According to reports the Lake Zurich team is considerably improved and with Kane and Nehmer going good, may upset someone but hardly Libertyville. Martin's Wildcats have a pair of fast hard driving men in Brown and Stickles and with Isaacson regaining his old form will be hard to beat. Jaeger at guard is another valuable Libertyville man and he was missed badly when forced to leave the Palatine game on fouls.

Palatine has another game at home this week when Wauconda comes to town and the Pirates expect to have their hands full. Megel hopes his team will be able to stop Pflug who scored 15 points last week as Wauconda dropped their opener to Leyden 38 to 28. Last season the Pirates had a couple of their toughest games with Wauconda and there is little danger of overconfidence on their part.

Arlington Aces Schedule Three Games in 5 Days

The two Arlington Aces basketball teams are having a busy time, with three games scheduled in five days. Tonight they travel to Crystal Lake, and Sunday will play at Franklin Park.

Tuesday they will play their next home game when they meet Wauconda's five in the Arlington Heights high school gym in the third of the series of games.

ELA IS VICTIM AS BARRINGTON OPENS SEASON

Heavies Win Easily 31-12; Lights Barely Nose Out Visitors 30-17

Barrington opened the season with a double win over Ela on the Bronchs court. The heavyweights had things pretty much their own way in piling up a 31 to 12 total, but the lights barely nosed out the Lake Zurich reserves 20 to 17.

Etters for Barrington and Kane for Ela stood out in the main game of the evening. Coach Clark substituted freely and despite the fact that Ela showed more strength than usual. the Bronchs had little trouble maintaining the lead. At the quarter they were in front 9 to 0, but faltered in the second period to finish the half 12 to 6. Barrington led 19 to 8 at the start of the final period.

After accumulating a lead of 11 to 6 in the first half, the Barrington lights had their hands full staving off a late Ela rally. Klopfenstein with 10 points led the Barrington scoring. Anderson and Rice each scored two field goals. Greber and Miller were the leaders on offense for Ela.

Ela had six field goals, five free throws and seven fouls while Barrington's record was eight field goals, four free throws and nine fouls. Coach Hosford used 11 players in his Barrington lineup while Ela played but six.

Arlington Grade Boys First Game is Today

Arlington Heights grade school boys will play their first game in the Northwest junior high school conference season this afternoon on their home floor when they meet the strong Dundee foes. The other six schools in the loop opened their schedules last week.

Probable starters in the first team game are Jerousek at center, Milligan and Harth at guards, and Oefelein and Colby at forwards. Second team starters will probably be Schulenberg at center, McDugal and Nichols at guard, and Peters and Koelling as forwards. Willard Vanderbeek is coach of the team.

Minnesota Captain

Captain Pug Lund, All-American half back of the undefeated Minnesota eleven, provided the leadership and inspiration which carried the mighty Gopher team to the national championship. Lund, winner of All-American honors for the second time in a row, is a triple threat back who averaged 6.7 yards for each ball carrying attempt this past year and had a punting average of 39 yards. Lund was the choice of every major critic for the title of top notch back of the year and voted by his team mates as their most valuable performer.

LEYDEN WINS IN TWO GAMES AT WAUCLNDA

Heavies Win 38-24; Lights 28-18; Pflug Is the Scoring Star

Playing a fine pair of games, Leyden high school of Franklin Park won 38-24 and 18-28 in the season's opening contests at Wauconda Friday. Leyden presented a well-coached team, standing out both defensively and offensively against the Wauconda boys, coached by Gail M. Breithauft, newest mentor in the loop, who is opening his first season at the northerly school.

While his team came out on the short end of the score, Leroy Pflug of Wauconda was the outstanding player of the evening. He scored seven field goals for a total of 14 points. Leyden's lights by their 28-18 victory over the Wauconda lights started a drive for another lightweight trophy.

TWO VICTORIES BY ORANGEMEN BEGIN SEASON

Heavies Win 34-17 Friday; Lights Take Close Game 12-8

Bensenville, smartly kicked around in the football season just closed, played a basketball game last Friday that showed the southerners to be among the conference's strong teams on the hardwood floor. The Orangemen traveled to Warren and came home with the Gurnee boys' scalps handing from their belts.

Bensenville's heavies went into a 5-3 lead at the end of the first quarter, and stayed ahead to win a 34-17 victory. The score at the half was 14-9, and at the end of the third quarter 25-10. Pilgrim, Bensenville forward, accounted for 12 points with five field goals and two free throws.

Warren accounted for only 4 field goals as against 13 for the visitors. Three Warren men went out on fouls, while one Bensenville player left the game by the same route.

Bensenville's lightweights started off the evening by defeating their hosts 12-8 in a close game. In the first quarter only five points were scored, three by Bensenville and two by Warren. At the half the score was 10-5. One free throw by Bensenville was the only scoring in the third period.

BLUE ACES WIN FROM PALATINE IN ADDED TIME

Game Ends 36-31; White Aces Defeat Visitors 38-25

An overtime game between the Arlington Blue Aces and the Palatine town team featured the opening of the graduate teams' seasons in the Arlington gym Friday night. Scoring 7 points in the extra time while their opponents scored only 2, the Blue Aces won 36-31.

In the other game of the evening the Arlington White Aces defeated another Palatine team 38-25. Superior team work and passing piled up a lead early in the game, and set a pace which the visitors could not keep up to. At the half the Aces lead 22-4.

The Blue Aces-Palatine game proved a thriller. While the home team had lead 8-2 at the end of the first quarter and 20-15 at the half, the visit closed up to make the score 25-23 at the end of the third quarter and tied the score 29-29 when the fourth quarter ended. The Aces tossed in four free throws and missed eight, while the Palatine team gained by making 9 scores in 18 attempts.

Koske and Volz with four baskets each and McKaig and L. Brodnan with two each were the Ace's scoring stars. Blankenship lived up to his high school reputation by sinking five field goals and two free throws for Palatine while all his teammates contributed to the score.

WATER PROJECT HELD UP INDEFINITELY AS BOARD ELECTS TO PUT QUESTION UP TO VOTERS AT SPECIAL REFERENDUM

Engineers Point Out That Village Lacks Adequate Water Supply and That Reservoir as Planned is Most Desirable and Economic Solution; Cost Would Have Been Self Liquidating; Gov't Loan Probably Lost.

(Mt. Prospect Review)

The Village Board met on Tuesday evening for the adjourned session to consider the petition on the water works improvement, and with a full Board attendance and a full house of interested citizens. Attorney Thal and Mr. Art Consoer of the engineering concern handling the project were present to assist in the discussions.

After a full evening of discussion in which all present took part, covering all phases of the project, the Board reached a vote on the acceptance of the petition, and went on record as favoring the submission to a vote of the people of the Village, the question of having or not having a water works improvement. The vote was a three to three tie, with President Meyn casting the deciding vote. Those voting in favor of proceeding with the project, on the basis of the ordinance which has been passed were Trustees Budlong, Niebuhr and Carlson. Those who favored getting an expression from the people before taking any further action were Trustees Beigel, Wille and Haas, and Mr. Meyn.

Adjournment Forced

Immediately after the vote, a motion was made by Trustee Haas forcing adjournment, without any other action being taken which would indicate what action would follow the approval of the petition. Attorney Thal had recommended to the Board that it was advisable for them to pass a motion which would prepare for a referendum at an early date. Village President Meyn was unable to say, following adjournment, what procedure would be followed in getting some positive action, either in discontinuing the discussion f the present project, or substituting a different type of construction. He suggested, however, that probably a special meeting of the Board would be called before the next regular meeting in January.

Right of Petition Upheld

One point of contention on the part of those who favored having a referendum was that at the time the project was approved originally, the state law provided for a petition for a referendum, which, under the law at that time had to be accepted. Attorney Thal reported that the law was changed last May, which had been previously reported, and as it stands at present, a referendum is not necessitated by the petition. However, it was maintained that those who are not in favor of the project, for one reason or another, have depended upon their privilege of petitioning, and even though the state law has taken this right away from them, the Board should still allow them consideration.

The petition as presented referred to the old law, and was declared by Attorney Thal to have no legal status. As it was worded, it does not suggest a different type of construction, but asks for the voting by the people on the present project, from which it was assumed that a ballot would be presented which would indicate those in favor of and those against the 250,000 gallon underground reservoir at a cost of $18,000.00, of which about two thirds would be repaid to the Federal Government out of water revenue. During the discussion, it was pointed out that several signers of the petition were residents of the Village who do not use water, and consequently are not affected by the project, since they would not contribute in any way toward paying for its cost.

Mr. Art Consoer, of the engineering firm of Consoer, Townsend, Older and Quinlan, who are engineers for Mt. Prospect and also for the new project at Arlington Heights, pointed out that the Village is faced at present with a serious water shortage, in case anything would happen to either of the present two deep wells, which deliver water at a rate of about 80 gallons per minute each. He spoke as a resident of the neighboring town of Park Ridge, and an engineer, in advising the Board members that they would appear to be greatly remiss in their duties if they failed to provide additional capacity at this time. He pointed out that his firm had reluctantly agreed to the reduction in the storage capacity from the recommended reservoir of 500,000 gallons, to half that amount, since the insurance authorities had very definite rulings on storage for fire protection, and the local system needed the larger additional amount.

Must Have More Capacity

Trustee Haas spoke for the signers of the petition, in declaring that their desire is for a construction out of private funds which would involve about $13,000.00, with an elevated storage tank of 100,000 gallons capacity. This storage capacity was declared by the engineers to be insufficient to meet the requirements of the insurance authorities and to be a waste of money, since the construction is more costly for the storage obtained than reservoir construction. Mr. Consoer also explained that the project as planned under the ordinance passed, includes an aerator which cannot be made a part of an elevated tank system. This device will remove a great portion of the iron in the water, reducing the staining of fixtures, and improving the quality., especially in the warm months of the year.

The discussion took in the comparison between elevated tanks and reservoirs in detail, and the engineers explained that practically all towns have underground storage capacity. In Arlington Heights, where a 250,000 gallon tank is being erected, there is an underground reservoir with 100,000 gallon capacity, which is depended upon for fire protection reserve. It was explained also that one consideration in Arlington Heights was the increasing of pressure in the southeast part of the village, which could be accomplished only by a standpipe. Another consideration presented in favor of the reservoir was that the plan permits addition of further capacity with little expense, which would not be possible with a tank. Also, it was explained that, in addition to providing iron removal, the reservoir is such that a water treatment plant can be added later, using the reservoir as a part of the treatment plant, if such a construction were desired.

Gov't Loan Undoubtedly Lost

The reasons stated by the Board members who voted to have a referendum was only that petitioners should be given what they wished, and that regardless of how they felt about the matter individually, the settlement of the question by popular vote was desirable. It was suggested by one of these trustees after the meeting adjourned that the petition signers represented a majority of the Village,—indicating that the project is actually an unpopular one, in its present form, at least. This desire on the part of the majority of the Board made actual consideration of advantages or features of the project impossible, although the evening was spent in their discussion before a motion was made to record the opinions held by the members.

Although the next move to be taken by the Board is undetermined, there is a possibility that the PWA loan and grant will be cancelled, due to the delay. Some attempt may be made to obtain action soon enough to prevent this cancellation, although the explanation given by Trustee Haas of the desires of some of the petition signers indicates that they prefer to have the construction financed by water bonds sold privately. This would require paying a higher interest rate, and the entire cost would have to be covered by bonds, which for the same storage capacity and fire protection, would probably involve an increase in water rates, which has been found to be unnecessary under the PWA plan.

CHARLIE GRIMM, PEPPY CUBS BOSS TO SPEAK AT FATHERS - SONS BANQUET MON. NIGHT

Charlie Grimm, the popular and peppy manager of the Chicago Cubs, will be the guest speaker at the Father-Son banquet next Monday night, December 17, at the Lutheran school auditorium. He is very busy now building up a team for next year and that team looks now like a sure winner. He is known as a jolly good fellow and quite an entertainer and will doubtless bring to the banquet much more than baseball lore. He is a man's man and a boy's man, a genial and companionable leader.

It is hoped that the Father-Son banquet will become an annual affair as it has become in most communities. It is an event which is anticipated from one years' end to the next, a time when fathers and sons become acquainted with each other; when fathers meet the fathers of the sons with whom their sons associate, when fathers meet other father's sons, and when sons form friendships with other sons. For the older man without a son of his own, it offers an opportunity to do a joyful deed in adopting a son for the occasion, who may become something more to him than merely a boy whom he sees now and then.

Short, Peppy Talks

One feature of the banquet which is entirely new, will be the stop-go-light for the control of speakers, which is recommended as a sure cure for the most persistent and long winded speaker. Of course the toastmaster upon whom will rest the responsibility of keeping things moving will not be subject to the dictates of the light, and neither, of course, will the guest speaker be controlled by any time limit. The stop light will serve as a safety first measure against boredom, just as the stop light on the highway serves as a safety first measure for traffic.

The banquet will be served by the Ladies' Aid of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, who are famous for their excellent dinners. Full value for every cent spent by the purchasers of the tickets is assured by the fact that the entertainment will cost only a nominal sum. There will be no profit to anyone. No group will attempt to make anything on the banquet, but all efforts are being turned toward assuring a good time to the large crowd which will attend. The price of the tickets is seventy-five cents for all over fourteen years of age and fifty cents for those under fourteen.

Tickets may be secured from any of the Ticket Sales committee which is headed by Adolph Gosch. Of course it will be necessary to purchase tickets as soon as possible since so little time is left before Monday, the seventeenth.

The Christmas meeting of the Women's Circle, will be held at the home of Mrs. C. Angell, 319 Wa-Pella avenue, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 19, at 8 p. m. Mrs. J. Zahn will be the assisting hostess.

Mrs. Cunningham Entertains the Am. Legion Aux.

The American Legion Auxiliary held its regular meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Geo. Cunningham, and in spite of the cold weather, attendance was large.

Plans were made for a Christmas party for children of American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary members in the public school basement December 21. The Auxiliary Juniors will furnish an interesting program.

Mrs. G. Cunningham, rehabilitation chairman, visited the Soldiers and Sailors home at Normal last week and had a delightful visit with the orphan which the local auxiliary is sponsoring. This orphan and a little girl sponsored by the Juniors will both be sent Christmas gifts.

On Wednesday, Dec. 12th, Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Verrett will visit Hines Hospital and the following week will assist in distributing slippers, ties and handkerchiefs to patients. This is part of the National Rehabitulation project carried out each year.

Friday evening, Dec. 14, Mrs. Verrett will open her house to the ladies desiring to play cards, while their husbands will be trying to win the Christmas bird downstairs. Refreshments will be served and there will be prizes. A small donation will be asked. Come and join the party.

Don't forget, Mrs. Santa Claus would like all toys your children no longer play with and which can be mended and made like new. Phone 1167 or 972-J and the toys you have will be called for.

V. F. W. Auxiliary News

The Ladies' Auxiliary to Prospect Post No. 1337, Veterans of Foreign Wars are now collecting magazines, empty spools, beads, old silk stockings and clothing. These will be delivered to the patients at the Elgin hospital. If you have any of these things to donate, get in touch with any member and we will be glad to call for them.

The ladies will also give the patients at that hospital, a treat of cigarettes at Christmas time, and a most generous donation is given for the orphans in the V. F. W. National Home. This donation is given, independent of our monthly donation that we have pledged to the Home.

Santa Claus has also promised to do his bit here at home and will have the assistance of Mrs. E. Pingel. So, children, be patient and it won't be long now.

Scouts Hold Interesting Meeting

On Tuesday, December 4, 1934, the Boy Scouts held their usual meeting in the basement of the public school. There was a good attendance and three new scouts were enlisted. Leland Helwig joined and will act as our new assistant scoutmaster in place of Mr. Edward Adam who has retired to another troop. Welcome Mr. Helwig. Scout Philip Kaiser who came with a new and spiffy uniform proceeded to cop the inspection away from the old timers. Congratulations, Philip! Then there is Billy Noe who recently advanced from the Cub pack. They all are promising scouts and we are glad to have them.

The program was well conducted and there was a lot of fun as well as instruction in signaling, and other scouting activities. We decided to have a treasure hunt next Saturday, meeting at the public school at 2:30 p. m., and we are hoping for good weather. After the meeting the officers had a discussion and it was decided that we, too, would have some fun, so we planned a staff party to be held at the home of George Dresser Friday evening, Dec. 14. Our next meeting will be Tuesday and we hope to see some new members.

Masonic Club Election Meeting Friday Night

The annual election of officers of the Mt. Prospect Masonic club will be held at the regular monthly meeting of the organization to be held at the public school house this coming Friday night, Dec. 14, at eight o'clock.

This is one of the most important meetings of the year and all Masons of the community are especially urged to come out.

ABOUT POULTRY

By A. A. Paltz

By A. A. PALTZ

Which Type of Brooder House Is Best?

Chicks are brooded in several different ways and each method calls for a different type of Brooder House.

The Colony House

The Colony type of brooder house is the most popular now and has been for years. It is thoroughly tried and tested so there must be good reasons why it has persisted in its popularity.

Colony Brooder Houses are small individual houses. The most common sizes are as follows:

8 ft. x 8 ft.....100 to 150 Chicks
10 ft. x 12 ft.....200 to 250 Chicks
10 ft. x 12 ft.....250 to 300 Chicks
12 ft. x 14 ft.....400 to 500 Chicks

The advantages of the Colony House method of brooding are many. One of the most important is that the Colony House can be moved from one location to another. This is a great aid to sanitation because Chicks can be grown on an entirely different plot of clean ground each year.

Another important advantage of the Colony House is that it can be located near to the residence. During the early part of the Brooding Season, frequent trips to the Brooder House are necessary. When the chicks are older and need less frequent attention, then the Colony House may be moved to the summer range.

There is still another feature of Colony brooding which is an advantage. That is, brooding chicks in small broods. Broods of 250 to 500 chicks each do much better as a rule than large broods of 1,000 chicks or more.

The Long Type of Brooder House

The long type of Brooder House offers some advantages when a large number of chicks (5,000 or more) are to be brooder. The cost for fuel and labor is less, cleaning is easier and all of the chicks can be watched better.

As a rule, with the long type of Brooder House, the chicks are not allowed outside except on very small cement covered runs. The long type of Brooder House is permanently located, therefore the soil around the house becomes unfit for chicks after a few seasons use. This is the reason for cement floor or wire floored runs.

Only thoroughly experienced poultry raisers should attempt to brood chicks in this type of house. The disease hazard is greater and certain vices, such as canibalism are apt to break out when chicks are confined constantly during Brooding. Also when chicks used to confinement are moved to the range, trouble may result because of the sudden change especially when the weather changes suddenly, immediately after the chicks are moved.

The long type of Brooder House is exactly what the name implies. It is a long house, divided into a series of small brooding rooms by partitions. A single hot water system operated by one stove is the usual method of heating.

The Battery System of Brooding

Regardless of all that has been said about Battery Brooding, it has not really proved itself as a satisfactory method of brooding chicks which are to be moved to the growing range and later on to the laying house.

The chief trouble with Battery Brooding is, trouble develops when the chicks are moved. Mortality of Battery Brooded Pullets is often very heavy after they are moved to the range.

As a means of starting chicks for the first three to ten days, batteries are used quite successfully by many poultry raisers, but longer confinement does not seem to be advisable.

Batteries for broiler raising have in many cases proved quite satisfactory especially when ample room is provided as the birds grow.

One big difficulty in battery brooding is canabalism. This habit seems to break out very easily unless ideal conditions and feed are provided.

All this is not to say that Battery brooding is not successful. But rather that the chick raiser should have experience with this method of brooding and know what he is doing before he makes a big investment in this type of equipment.

Essential Features in a Good Colony Brooder House

By and large the most successful and practical type of brooder house for the farmer or the back lotter is the Colony House. Therefore, a few pointers on a brooder house of this type are in order.

A double floor with a layer of water proof building paper between makes the best floor. Arrangements must be made for good ventilation. In the front, frames covered with muslin should be constructed so that they can be raised or lowered as weather conditions demand. In the rear the space between the rafters should be constructed so that considerable ventilation may be provided here.

The Colony House should be constructed on skids so that it can be moved easily with a team of horses.

Before building a Colony Brooder House, it is well to send to the State Agricultural College for recommendations. Bulletin No. 291 will be sent free to any Poultry Raiser upon request by the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture, Urbana, Illinois.

Note: Mr. Paltz is a poultryman of long experience and will be glad to answer your poultry questions if you address your correspondence to Mr. A. A. Paltz, Sunny Croft Hatchery, Palatine, Illinois.

WHEELING

The Community Christmas tree celebration will be sponsored by the chamber of commerce, Friday, Dec. 21, at 7 p. m., sharp, at the village hall. All children are invited.

Mr. John Wick narrowly escaped serious injury last Thursday afternoon, when he was thrown from the cab to the pavement when another motorist struck his truck while driving on Deerfield road. Fortunately he suffered only severe bruises and road burns. The truck was damaged considerably.

The play, "Tea Toper Tavern," presented by young people of the community last Friday evening, was well received. The plot of the play centered about the activities of a group of college girls, who rented a country mansion, converting it into a tea room for the purpose of raising money for their college endowment fund. A quarantine, the unexpected return of the owner, a costume ball, a fire, a secret passage way and the darts of cupid, contributed to the developing of the plot. The cast of characters included Janet McCaffrey, Dorothy Balling, Ethel Reeb, Edna Grewe, John Sicks, Edna Hoffman, Cornelia Huizenga, Allen Wick, Marshall Balling, Oscar Laurance, Bud Flentge, Robert Kruse, Florence Page, Cornelia Huizenga.

The young celebrity, Miss Clara Hartmann, was honored by three farewell parties before her return last week, to spend the winter months in Des Moines. A group of twenty friends were gathered at the Hartmann House on Tuesday afternoon, remaining for supper and the evening which was passed playing bunco and cards. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. F. Siese entertained in her honor as did Mrs. Wm. Laurance on Wednesday evening.

We are glad to note that Mr. Hy. Grandt, Sr., is convalescing from his recent operation in the Lutheran Deaconess hospital, Chicago.

The regular meeting of the Wheeling Parent-Teacher's association. will be held at the school next Monday, Dec. 17, at 3:15 p.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS HERALD

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS STORES FILLED WITH CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Prepare for Big Buying Season; Best from Chicago Wholesale Markets Brought Here for Their Patrons; Large Advertisements Reveal Extensive Selection of Merchandise Which Is Offered at Popular Prices.

The stores of Arlington Heights have not in recent years offered a larger variety of Christmas merchandise. They have never made a greater effort to acquaint the public with the advantage of doing their Christmas shopping in that community. Large advertisements in this week's edition are used to carry their Christmas sales message into the neighboring communities served by the Paddock publications as well as throughout the home town.

Gifts from jewelry to practical suggestions for the home are listed in the advertising pages of this section. The Herald organization has done its utmost to co-operate with the Arlington Heights business men to make the 1934 Christmas season like the "good old days when everybody had money to spend at Christmas time." There is less money per family, but there are more families and the Paddock Publications are reaching out to bring a greater number of these families into Arlington Heights to do their Christmas shopping.

From a local standpoint, the local stores are doing their best to bring back prosperity in this city, it depends upon the co-operation of the public whether the effort of our business men have been worth while.

NEW FRUIT AGENCY

The Economy Orange Growers corporation, who opened a store at 10 West Campbell street, Arlington Heights, early in November, have closed the store and announced that their product is now being sold through Mrs. Kuhlmann's delicatessen in Arlington Heights. The firm specializes in tree-ripened citrus fruits shipped in carload lots from Florda and distributed in the suburbs.

The Methodist Men's club regular dinner will be December 19, at 6:45 with an interesting program to follow. A speaker will be heard on the topic of "Economics of Advertising."

JUST REMEMBER

The Arlington Heights Herald enters every home within the corporate limits of the village. It goes there through the co-operation of the business men who use its advertising columns.

Those who enjoy reading the Herald each week can aid in making the Herald a better newspaper for their community by asking their own merchant, with whom they do their trading, to use its advertising columns.

The task of maintaining a local newspaper too often depends upon the cooperation of a few of the merchants. Those whose ads. never appear therein are not helping to keep Arlington Heights in the news world.

Just a suggestion, help sell the Herald to your favorite storekeeper. It will mean a better and larger home newspaper.

Fall Into Reservoir Injures Rockford Man In Palatine Tuesday

As a result of a fall while descending into an underground water storage reservoir at Palatine to make an inspection, John Greenlee of Rockford was badly bruised Tuesday afternoon and suffered a sprained arm, hip, and leg. After being treated at the Community hospital he was taken to his home by Special Police Officer Oscar Weide.

The fall occurred as he was descending a ladder into the 10-foot deep reservoir located in the rear of the Municipal building at 54 South Brockway street. The reservoir, after being unused for many years, is being repaired through the utilization of I. E. R. labor. A. H. Schmidt, village trustee, is supervising the job.

Charles S. Stewart Will Speak to P T A Of Arlington Tuesd'y

"Education for Mastery of Tools, Technics, and Spirit of Learning," will be the topic of Charles S. Stewart, featured speaker at next Tuesday's meeting of the Arlington Heights Parent-Teacher association. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the Southside school.

This will be a regular meeting of the association, with the speaker and singing of Christmas carols by school children following the business meeting. The program will be open to the public.

Mr. Stewart is an English teacher at Wright Junior college in Chicago. He was an instructor at Crane Junior college for some 14 years until it closed, and from 1907 to 1913 was principal of the Maine township high school at Des Plaines, where his home is located.

Christmas Seal Returns Are Good; But More Needed

The response to the Christmas Seal letters is gratifying to the committee. Of the amount thus far received $40.00 was realized from the sale of Health Bonds in five dollar denomiation and $121.00 has been contributed by 140 persons, whose contributions have ranged from five cents to five dollars. Because of the new method of camgaign it is impossible at present to compare accurately with previous years results, but we are looking forward to far greater returns than in the last two years. Less than one third of the letters have been turned in as yet and we urge you to be as prompt as possible with your returns.

10 Horses Dead in Fire At Farm Near Palatine

Ten horses were lost, nine of them burned to death and the other so seriously burned he had to be shot, in a fire which destroyed the barn at the Harry Kelly farm 2 miles northwest of Palatine early Saturday morning. Two horses were saved. The animals were all being boarded at the farm.

The blaze was first seen at about 5:45 o'clock, but an attempt was made to control the flames without calling out the firemen. When the Palatine Rural Fire Protection league truck was called the fire had gotten such headway that it could not be stopped and the firemen directed their efforts to saving the other buildings of the farm.

Is There a Santa Claus?

TO THE GOOD PEOPLE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

Just suppose you overheard a little chap with pinched face and threadbare clothes, say, "I do not believe there is a Santa Claus," and that question was asked right here in Arlington Heights the next day after Christmas, how would you, Mr. Citizen feel. Would it not be evident that there were grave reasons for the little fellow's disbelief in that patron of childhood?

There will be many little chaps in Arlington Heights who are now asking the question, "Is There a Santa Claus?" who will have their hopes dashed to the ground on Christmas morning, unless an organized effort is made.

The Arlington Heights Lions Club is stepping into the breech and intends to help these small tots keep their faith in that Old Gentleman, Santa Claus. Here is the plan and here is your opportunity to help us show that Arlington Heights has not forgotten the Christmas spirit. The mere purchase on your part of a 25c ticket to a high class show Christmas Eve, giving you a full evening's entertainment, will enable the Lions Club to use every penny of that 25c to bring cheer to those kiddies all afternoon, Dec. 24th.

Lion Godshaw, a new member of the Lions Club, will donate the entire proceeds of his theatre and put on, entirely at his own expense, a nine reel feature picture, especially selected for children, entitled, "Alice In Wonderland," and other children features, making a full afternoon show.

Then in the evening, Mr. Godshaw at his own expense will run two shows with the best pictures obtainable for your entertainment. All of the receipts will go to the kiddies. With that kind of a spirit on the part of Mr. Godshaw, can you afford to pass up this opportunity to do your part in purchasing a 25c ticket, even if you can't attend yourself.

After the afternoon show for the kiddies is over, Santa will appear in person and with the assistance of a number of the Lions, will distribute gifts to the children, who otherwse might not have the opportunity of meeting him.

If you want to see a thrilling sight, come down to the afternoon show and watch the expressions on the faces of the kiddies at the end of the program.

Our good friends and neighbors, the Lions Club of Mt. Prospect will work with us and the Mt. Prospect children are, of course, to be also included. We want children between the ages of two and fifteen years to attend the afternoon show; the younger ones may be accompanied by their parents.

Tickets for the afternoon or evening show, the entire receipts of which goes to the Lions Club Christmas Fund, may be purchased at nearly all of the Arlington Heights business houses. Every Lions Club member has tickets for you. Any organization or club, desiring blocks of tickets are asked to get in touch with Henry Miller, chairman of the Civic Welfare committee, Carl Ewert at Arlington Bootery, Sec., or Al Jasper, president. Mt. Prospect people can secure tickets of Wm. Busse, Jr., president of the Lions club of that town.

All tickets must be sold by Dec. 18, in order for the committee to complete the plans for Christmas. You are urged to buy your tickets now. If you can not attend, pass the tickets on to some one else.

The committee can not make a personal appeal. The faith and childhood belief of the kiddies of Arlington Heights in Santa Claus depends upon you and your neighbor. This is the only organized Christmas charity being planned this year.

Autoist Offers Free Taxi; Girl in Haste Injured by His Car

C. M. Lutes, 922 So. Dunton, Arlington Heights, tried to be a good Samaritan Monday morning by offering free taxi service to school for some of the pupils who reside in that part of town. It was a cold morning and he was glad to pick up three pupils of the high school and when he came near to Pauline Kozuntlik, who attends the Catholic school, he also prepared to stop for her. Pauline attempted to cross the road, preparatory to being ready to enter the car, without gauging the distance of the auto and was struck by the bumper with such force that one of the lower bones of her right leg was broken and a rib fractured. She was taken at once to Dr. Leckband who took an X-ray of the injuries.

Charles Taege Dies At Age of 70 Years; Funeral Was Tuesday

Charles Taege, an Arlington Heights resident for 47 years, died Saturday morning, just a few days short of 10 months after the death of his wife. He was 70 years old. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home and in St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church. The Rev. C. M. Noack and the Rev. Harry C. Fricke officiated.

Mr. Taege was born in Long Grove February 5, 1864 and in 1887 married Miss Bertha Kruckenberg at Lowden, Ia. The couple came to Arlington Heights where they made their home.

He served several terms as a member of the Arlington Heights grade school board, and was a member of that body at the time the east addition to the North side school was built. In January, 1932, he was pensioned after having worked 25 years as foreman in the striping, japaning, and enameling department of a Chicago firm.

Mr. Taege leaves four children, Paul Taege, Mrs. Olga Hennig, the Rev. Oswald Taege, and Miss Edna Taege, all of whom are living in Arlington Heights, six grandchildren, and two brothers, Emil Taege of Arlington Heights and William Taege of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

7-Year Old Schoolgirl Suffers Fractured Jaw When Struck by Auto

Shirley Broemmelkamp, 7-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Brommelkamp, was severely injured when struck by an automobile Tuesday afternoon on Quentin road, one-fourth mile north of the Wittenberg school near Palatine. She suffered a fractured lower jaw, scalp cut, and body bruises.

The girl is a patient in the Community hospital where she was taken for treatment after the accident which occurred while the girl was on her way home from school.

The auto which struck her was driven by Miss Evelyn Meyer, 17 years old. The child was struck as she ran from behind a wagon on which a group of children had been riding. Seeing the children, Miss Meyer, was driving slowly, and so was able to avoid running over the child.

Frank Schmidt, who was walking behind the wagon in which the children had been riding, called a warning to them, but despite this the child dashed into the path of the oncoming auto.

As the Arlington Heights Christmas prize contest gets into full swing, the prizes are multiplying and increasing in value. The Herald had expected to publish the full list of the prizes in this issue, but all of the merchants are not yet quite ready to report and the full list with definite hours for the awards in the various stores will not be announced until next week's issue.

Among the new prizes offered this week are a $35 diamond ring offered by G. H. Wilke; $25 in trade offered by the Arlington Roller Mills; 3 tons of coal offered respectively by the three local coal dealers. Krause's Cash market is offering a Christmas turkey, and there are over two scores of other prizes.

This prize contest was first presented to the business houses of Arlington Heights as a Christmas trade project. There are very few rules and it is being conducted as impartially as possible.

For the benefit of the general public, we will state that there are two kinds of tickets being given out by the merchants. One ticket participates in the prize that the individual merchant intends to give; the other ticket applies to the community prizes, of which there will be nearly fifty.

The Arlington Theatre is giving a prize ticket with every admission, and there are few places in town that are not participating in the Christmas prize awards.

Great Horned Owl Shown in Museum Of Forest Preserve

A great horned owl, one of the last of its species in this part of the country, according to ornithologists, is on exhibition at the Trailside museum, of the Cook county forest preserve district, Thatcher and Chicago avenues.

The owl, whose yellow eyes are an inch across, was caught by Thomas McCree in Michigan, who presented it to Trailside musium. The bird stands nearly 2 feet tall, and has a wing spread of 48 inches. The horned owl is one of the largest of its tribe, birdmen say. The female is larger than the male. Trailside museum's guest is a female.

Just as they surpass other owls in size, so too, are they the most ferocious. Many tales are told of their boldness in attacking large animals.

Trailside Museum gets its name from the fact that it is along one of the 175 miles of hiking trails of the forest preserves. It is open from 10 a. m., to 6 p. m., daily free to visitors. It contains either living or mounted species of all animals, birds, insects, reptiles, butterflies making the forest preserves their abode.

Arlington Heights Garden Club Question Box ....

Selecting a Christmas Tree

There are several kinds of Evergreens which can be used for Christmas Trees, the Norway Spruce, Balsam Fir, Colorado Spruce, Douglas Spruce, and Black Hill White Spruce.

The Balsam Fir, a native of North America, is superior for a Christmas tree. It is of very good color, symmetrical growth, and fine fragrance. It grows tall from 40 to 50 feet, with regularly branched layers or whorls of branches about the trunk and quite thick at the base of the tree which is ideal for hanging ornaments. The leaves or needles are about one inch in length, smooth and soft, with a bluish green tint and a pronounced balsam fragrance. The needles do not fall off the branches as readily as other evergreen varieties which makes it the most desirable for the Christmas tree for the house.

The Norway Spruce, Picea Excelsa, is the common native Spruce of Europe and is found in Russia, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Switzerland, France and elsewhere. It is most widely used and grows to about 60 feet. The shave, pointed leaves are an inch or less in length and dark green in color. The branches are in regular layers branching close to the ground and making a sweeping or dropping appearance.

The Colorado Blue and green Spruce, natives of the North American Rocky Mountains are very compact and bushy for Christmas trees and likewise the Black Hill White Spruce and the Douglas Spruce. They are slow growers and too expensive for cutting purposes.

In selecting a Christmas tree it should be symmetrical with regular branches. The tree should be shaken well to note whether needles fall off or not. A local grown tree is preferred because they are cut a week or so before Christmas while the northern trees are some times cut as early as October.

It would do no harm to put the tree in a pail of water for a few days or allow the tree to remain in water during the time it is in the house which prevents the needles from falling off. Before putting the tree in water the rosin should be scrapped off the trunk of the tree where it was sawed or chopped off so as to allow absorbtion to take place.

The illumination of the tree by small electric lights does no harm or damage, but the higher watt or large electric lights often scorch the tree.

Arlington Theatre Humming with Holiday Events Now

The long coveted pie bakers in the Chinaware layout are scheduled for distribution next Thursday and Friday plus an added item of a new Crystal line being an expensive mixing bowl with holly pattern and rich stripes for Saturday, Dec. 22. Xmas novelties will be added to the general gift distribution of this week—a sort of double dose of cash and other prizes.

Sunday of this week brings Russ Colombo in his last picture. Colombo was likened to Valentino by movie fans and his sudden demise was a sad blow to those who loved his golden voice. Russ is gone, but his voice will live on in film archives. Hollywood mourns this romantic young star who climbed from tenement obscurity to the pinacle of fame.

Dolores Del Rio, she of the alluring voice, eyes and come hither, does DuBarry next week and those who have seen the picture give it a group of stars in the "audacious" columns.

Saturday, Dec. 22 brings a first run picture entitled "A Million Dollar Ransom." A special matinee starting at 2:30 will be given to accommodate the crowd who will undeniably crash the doors to get one of those mixing bowls that have the appearance of being worth twice the admission price and more. The bowl will also be given to the night patrons at the night shows.

Monday, Dec. 24, the theatre will be turned over to the Lions club of Arlington Heights for a benefit fund for underprivileged kiddies.

A New Year's Eve midnight show is announced and reservations going at a fast clip with two shows in one as the magnet. Irene Dunne and John Boles in "The Age of Innocence" is one of the vehicles being spoken of by the management so far. Lots of screen vaudeville and a 12 p. m. tableaux is another item announced so far with more in the offing. Six-day Bike Racer, Wagon Wheels, There's Always Tomorrow, Fugitive Lady. 365 Nites In Hollywood, Gift of Gab, Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch. The Fountain, Lemon Drop Kid, Gay Divorcee and One Night of Love, are all due between now and January 6. A nice string of top notch features. Captain Hates the Sea is also on the way.

AL. BUSSE IN DETROIT TO SEE NEW CARS

Joins Party on Special Train as Guests of Manufacturers

Mr. Albert E. Busse of Mt. Prospect left Tuesday evening for a trip to Flint, Pontiac and Detroit, with the Pontiac and Buick dealers of the Chicago area, for a trip through the plants and proving grounds of these two most popular General Motors units. The group of dealers are traveling on a special train, which will be used as home and headquarters during the tour. Mr. Busse, accompanied by Mr. Ernest Busse of Park Ridge, are with a Pullman car full of dual-dealers,—those who handle both Pontiac and Buick cars. Many of the dealers on the special train handle only one car, and only a few will be fortunate enough to be in on the trips through both the Pontiac plant at Pontiac, Michigan and the Buick plant at Flint.

The preparations for leaving on the tour were made with considerable excitement, as rumors and half-confirmed reports were afloat that the new Pontiac, to which the dealers will be introduced at the plant will be new in a great many respects, and these reports have been so mysterious that there is a great anxiety on the part of Mr. Busse and his fellow dealers to get to Pontiac to see the new models, and find out what the models are for the new year. Enough has been given out unofficially to give the dealers assurance that they will have a popular car to offer for 1935.

Trips Through Plants

The special train will be set off on a side track at Pontiac Wednesday morning, and the dealers, as guests of the manufacturers, will be taken to the proving grounds at Milford, where they will see demonstrations of the methods used and of the new cars. In the afternoon Wednesday, they will be taken through the factory at Pontiac, and then to Detroit for dinner, where they will be the guests of the Pontiac makers. On Thursday the Buick dealers will go to Flint, to see the plant and proving grounds. The 1935 Buick has been announced, and there are to be no changes of any importance, as the makers and dealers agree that the 1934 model received sufficient public approval to warrant retaining it for 1935. Mr. Busse expects to be back in Mt. Prospect by Saturday morning.

Neglected Drainage Should be Checked To Prevent Losses

Should the spring of 1935 bring an unusual amount of rainfall, farming districts in many parts of Illinois where drainage systems have been neglected in recent years are likely to suffer serious losses, in the opinion of E. W. Lehmann, head of the agricultural engineering department at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Because of the severe economic depression and a series of dry seasons, little has been done in the way of maintaining efficient channels in some of the drainage districts in the best farming areas of the state, says Lehmann. In a number of instances the drainage ditches are in a poor state of repair, but the seriousness of their condition will not be realized fully until one or more wet seasons result in large crop losses.

In view of the possible crop risks, individual farmers might well afford to take the time and trouble to inspect their drain tile outlets to see if they are working effectively. If the ditch has filled in to the extent that the tile does not discharge freely, it should be cleaned out.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Observer's been to a movie show,
Right here in our own town,
Arlington's new theater you know
Made beautiful all up and down.
Believe it or not, saw Charley Chan
As live as live could be;
And the vigilant kindly manager man
And his lady all courtesy.
If you want to give a friend a treat,
A ticket to our theater couldn't be beat.

Attractive new red leather seats, everything new and up to date. The manager will allow no rude conduct or rough words in the halls or lobby. A discreet management, a first class theater—why not give it the liberal patronage it deserves.

Christmas is coming. Some grandpa's now remember "way back when" they used to watch and listen for the jingle of Mr. Guilds bells when he was sure to take them in the old bob sled all over town. Wonder how many of them remember "Uncle Billie" now?

The sore toe of the King of England or the ingrown grouch of Japan or France, mean as much or more than the illness of our next door neighbor did years ago, and Britains quints means more than a dear baby born to one of our near kin. Our worries and our vexation is so expanded and in like measure our worries are increased.

Wish I had time and strength to look after all these little children too often on the street, because of my inability to render this loving service. We are the more truly thankful for that splendid organization, the P. T. A. in which our thoughtful conscientious parents are joined with teachers in watchful care and supervision of child welfare.

O, the little children
Running everywhere;
Parents do you realize
They need your watchful care?

It matters not how weary
You may be today,
Just for their sake be cheery,
Put other cares away.

Compared unto your children,
Nothing is so worthwhile;
Keep them ever near you,
Join their play, and smile.

O, the little children,
Running down the street;
Little feet unwary,
Of many dangers they may meet.

They, your life employment,
And your sacred trust;
God holdeth you responsible,
Care for them you must.

O, the little children,
Running everywhere!
Parents, do you realize
God trusts them to your care?

Times may change, but it is the conduct of the people that makes the change. We used to be brought up on high ideals. We drank them in with our mother's milk. Don't blame this bottle fed defrauded generation for things they may be drinking in, with Melons food malted milk and other modern baby afflictions. Just hold fast to the faith of our fathers and be patient.

Get all fussed up myself over these changed conditions, try to adjust my thoughts to these trying problems and puzzles until my mind writhes into a sort of permanent wave over the distracting turns and turbulence of it all until I am worn weary. Glad I'm not running the world, yet I know God reigns and all will yet be well.

Speaking of the children, it seems a pity that in these times of financial depression they should be allowed to feel the stress of it, debt and due bills are too often discussed in the children's hearing. We read of the way father's fail in home studies help. A boy came from school entering the room eagerly asked his father to please tell him "What is dew" the father laid aside his paper went to his desk and took out a bundle of bills.

Reading "due for water" due for fuel, due for rent and a whole burden of things. Due heavy on his mind, the poor lad explained that his teacher wanted to describe "dew" and was the boy bewildered by his father's explanation? Bet a cookie that boy's father wasn't a farmer—if he had been, he could have explained to his son all about even "Honeydew."

That reminds me of the good times our farmers are to have this week out at that party in Elk Grove. Not a church social or a turkey dinner can come up to the jolly good times the farmers have together when they stage a party or a picnic. The efficient Farm Adviser tells about it in that artistically put up paper Country Side. Better turn farmer and share their independent good times.

November went out taking away our song birds and our flowers. Bright chrysanthemums stayed long enough to decorate our dinner table and vie with the pretty basket of blossoms Mrs. Hofstetter so kindly sent to us from California, lavender in color, a pretty everlasting or immortal variety. Just like our dear, kind friend to send those pretty fadeless blossoms just typical of her loyal friendship.

Over on Belmont avenue, Mr. Kost had several carefully tended perpetual roses as November was near the end one bush near the street flaunted the most beautiful deep pink roses, even the morning of the 26th, I saw one rose as I passed by making a goodby greeting. The flowers are faded and gone. Now friends we must gather our friends about us and if we know any more needy than ourselves, extend a helping hand while the kettle sings and the warm fire glows on the hearth—"Adios" to summer.

November winds sweep over the meadow. In the course of nature, frost and cold must put the flowers to sleep. The memory of their loveliness is with us, and the sure knowledge that in due time they will live and come again to cheer us, and be sure the little golden dandelion will be the last to go.

The poplar leaves with fibre tough
Close to the trees pathetic cling;
November winds so cold and rough,
Beat them like some wild hungry thing.

The asters that in beauty swayed,
In purple plumes on all our way;
Their masses royal glory made,
Withered and stiff they're bowed today.

Our garden favorites are dead,
Bright zinias, all so stoutly brave
Late lifting each bright colored head,
As if defying winter's grave.

Over the panes, pathetic cling,
The morningglory's tendrils yet;
What cheer, what courage they did bring,
Daughter's of dawn we'll not forget.

The lily bells of lavender,
That late so airily were hung,
When summer breezes soft did stir
Now brown and seas dead stems are flung.

Their leaves, like flots of glossy silk,
That lately glistened in the sun,
Where sweet alysum white as milk,
Over the stone lies gray and dim.

Old winter's close upon their track,
Leaving destruction everywhere;
Today one small bright bloom came back,
To smile and bird song thrilled the air.

Over the roof like drifted snow,
Lie heaps of starry clematis;
Through sunny days, to let us know,
How much November makes us miss.

Yet here within sunshine will creep,
Our flowers ghosts will never chide
When mother nature bids them sleep,
Her time for waking them we'll bide.

The bright berries and crimson leaves,
All these today will linger still;
The sparrows chatter neath the eaves,
November wind is cold and chill.

Still in the early dawning light,
And in the sunsets ruddy glow;
Our flower colors richly show
And morning ever follows night.

Womens Club News Notes

A Christmas Sewing Bee, Dec. 15, is to be on the program Wednesday, at the usual time for the club meeting in the home of the president, Mrs. Jarvis. This is a regular session, but you are requested to bring your sewing.

Tuesday this week the president of the club, Mrs. Jarvis, with twelve members, attended a Twentieth Century Christmas party at Park Ridge. It was to them a most pleasing and enjoyable affair.

The members of the board were luncheon guests of Mrs. Jarvis Wednesday, December 5. Finishing their routine business and enjoying a delightful luncheon hour the board met the club members, held their regular session by attending the Arlington theater where they witnessed the film "Charley Chan in London." Free tickets to all club members in this up-to-date theater. The pictures were wonderfully well shown, the most pleasurable entertainment closing with a regular theater party. A choice luncheon served by the hospitable, courteous manager and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Godshaw, a partnership in courtesy, ability and a keen understanding as to all that is needed to make a fine success of their business, where the best pictures are presented in safe, clean surroundings where a self respecting public should be glad to go. All who saw Charley Chan in Arlington Theater, have warm praise for the splendid management, and wonder why we should endure the dangers of the city night life when we can see the best pictures at home.

Mrs. Mitzlaff with her chorus of fifteen voices are practicing for Christmas music. They are to sing for the Palatine Woman's club their Guest Day, December 18.

JUNIOR LEAGUE NOTES

The Junior League of the Arlington Heights Woman's club held their first Reciprocity Monday evening, December 10, and had as their guest speaker, Mrs. Ransom Kennicott, Sr., 7th District Conservation chairman of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Kennicott spoke on the various angles of conservation and her talk was enjoyed immensely by everyone present at this meeting. We were also very happy to have seven members of the Des Plaines Junior League with us at this time and these young ladies in turn invited us to attend the card party they are sponsoring on Monday evening, December 17. Miss Dorothy Kaeppel entertained us with one of her amusing character readings, and refreshments, daintily arranged on a table decorated with Santa Claus and red candles, were served by the social committee.

The next Junior League meeting will be a Christmas party on Friday evening, December 21, and it is hoped every member will make an effort to be present.

JUNIOR LEAGUE DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT, DEC. 29

The Arlington Heights Junior League is sponsoring a holiday dance on Saturday evening, December 29, at Mohawk Country club, Irving Park boulevard, Bensenville, Ill. Bids are $1.00 per couple and may be purchased from all Junior League members. Persons who attended the summer frolic this group of young ladies sponsored at Brae-Burn Country Club last summer voted it one of the grandest affairs they'd ever been to, so get your tickets early for this gala holiday dance which we are sure will be one of the memorable events in this year of 1934.

LOCAL CANARY AVIARY NOW MEMBER OF THE I. R. C. B. ASSOCIATION

We are informed that the recently announced Songhaven Aviaries of Arlington Heights, is now identified with the International Roller Canary Breeder's association.

On last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Bauer, proprietors of this business, were guest visitors of the Wisconsin Roller Canary Breeder's Club show and exhibit in Milwaukee under the auspices of the I. R. C. B. A., where some 500 of the finest singing canary stock was exhibited.

While the Songhaven Aviaries did not enter any of their own high rated pedigreed birds in this show, much of interest was gained from the show and Mr. Bauer states that Roller Canaries as home pets are becoming more popular every year.

For the convenience of the large number of canary pet fanciers in Arlington Heights, having one or more such pets in the home, Mr. Bauer wishes to inform readers that he offers a full line of highest grade foods and supplies at greater savings in cost than can be procured elsewhere. This is due to Mr. Bauer's contacts with large food and supply distributors thruout the country and because of large bulk purchases made for his own supply.

Mr. Bauer's stock of canaries offers a selection of very choice singers for the Christmas season as gifts.

An effort will also be made to co-ordinate with Regional and National programs. The Northwest Suburban council will inaugurate its Twenty-fifth Anniversary observance at annual meeting of the council in January.

Mrs. Harry Garland

Helen Garland (nee Yeager) was born at Crete, Illinois February 3, 1888; was married in 1910 to Harry S. Garland and died in the University Research hospital in Chicago, December 5, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Garland were the parents of two children, a son, Harry, Jr., and a daughter, Elizabeth, now in their home with their father at Wauconda.

Since the early summer, Mrs. Garland has been an invalid and for the three months last passed a great sufferer. Everything that love and medical skill could do, was tried for her relief. All of no avail, about two weeks of her last days were spent in the hospital.

During the past three months Mrs. Blume had taken the care of her sister and her family in their Wauconda home.

About ten years since, Mr. and Mrs. Garland, with Mr. and Mrs. Blume, opened a florist business here under the name of Arlington Gardens. Into this business they put some noble and strenuous efforts. Mrs. Garland gave her best days, her strength and at last her life for the benefit of her family. She had a large heart, for all her friends. Her flowers cheered many a lonely one. Her kind and generous deeds can never be forgotten. She was "Our Helen" beloved by us who knew her.

Mrs. Garland leaves beside her husband, son and daughter in the home, seven sisters, and two brothers, to mourn and miss her here. In the home with her family now are Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Blume. Mrs. Blume has given up her own home to care for her sister. Other of the sisters have also assisted in her care. To all who knew her, she meant much. The funeral was held in Arlington Heights in Lauterburg and Oehler's funeral chapel Saturday afternoon. Dr. H. A. Kossack, Mrs. Garland's pastor and friend, preached the sermon, an urge to revive and keep the true Christian faith, a strong comforting sermon.

The burial was in the Garland family lot in Maine township cemetery.

There were masses of beautiful flowers as loving tokens of respect and esteem for the one who brought us flowers. Her friends and neighbors in Arlington Heights especially those to whom she so often came, will deeply miss Helen. And all join in sincere sympathy to her family who will miss her as time goes on.

Why weep for Helen here today
And sad lamenting make?
Free from this poor worn house of clay
In joy she did awake.

Husband and son and daughter dear,
Sisters so loving, true and kind,
Hopes star will shine to guide you here.
To where your loved you'll find.

She was our queen of flowerland,
Now in God's gardens fair;
He lets her tend with her dear hand
The glorious blossoms there.

She was so much of us a part,
Here we will miss her so;
Yet well we know from her dear heart
For us, her love will flow.

Each day of life's far journey drear,
Brings nearer Heaven's gate,
To welcome all she so loved here,
In joy will Helen wait.

She was our queen of flowerland,
Her flowers for all did grow;
Sometime God grant we'll understand,
Why from us she must go.
From one who loved Helen.

Food Will be Admission To Grade School Program

A can of beans or other foodstuffs will be the admission to the Christmas program which pupils of the Arlington Heights North school are planning to have December 21. The proceeds are to go to Miss Martha Jackson, local health nurse, who will give the food to poor people who are temporarily in great need.

The program will be held in the Presbyterian church, and will feature a play, "One Gift Above Another" given by the grade school's dramatic club under the direction of Miss Aloise Henning. Singing by the group will be directed by Miss Fern Lorenzen.

Lois Bolte and Rudy Stein Out in Front In Popularity Contest

With the contest in its last stages and coming to a close soon, the race develops into a skirmish between 4 or 5 for leading positions. Rudy Stein is out in front on a count up to Tuesday night past with over 13,000 votes to the good. With lots of ballots outstanding and not as yet dropped in the ballot box and with a lot of interest manifested in the Bolte splurge, the standing might alter a great deal in the last few days of the contest. Steve Szasz promises to crowd the winners and prove to be the leading dark horse and whispers of 20,000 or more votes he has not revealed yet. Marlene Deiterich can be considered as a last moment candidate and coming through with a big vote. All votes, slips given out now at the theatre box office are giving 200 votes to each candidate. Votes will be given out extra on Sunday and Monday of this week, Dec. 16 and 17, counting for 50 votes each. These votes will be given to all the Sunday patrons, adults and children alike. Standing to date on all votes counted:

Rudy Stein, 82,500; Lois Bolte, 79,600; John Angeloff, 65,900; Ruth Wenzel, 54,200; Bernice Deiterich, 49,300; Rose Kelling, 33,800; Esther Kehe, 32,700; Mary Bird, 32,700; John Ladas, 30,600; Bill Jerousek, 29,600; Steve Szasz, 27,900; Mary Jane Michael, 21,900; Mildred Becker, 18,300; Helene Menark, 20,600; Dolores Hoffman, 17,900; Marjorie Dobbins, 16,800; Evelyn Bolek, 15,400; Harry Greinke, 19,900; Harold Redeker, 18,600; Dorothy Hanauer, 16,200; Lillian Lindstrom, 16,100; Geo. Renner, 11,400; Jane Dearie, 10,200; Marjorie Nelson, 7,400. Another dozen or more are running close together with standings of 5,500 up to 7,000.

More and more the citizens of the surrounding towns are becoming familiar with the great humanitarian acts the Eagles are trying to accomplish, and have accomplished throughout the country.

More and more are they realizing what the Eagles truly stand for. How the Eagles take care of their sick and their poor through the wonderful benefit system of which each member is entitled.

Is it any wonder that there are so many inquiries received at the Eagles Club Rooms in Park Ridge from people interested in becoming members of this Order?

With the rate applications are being received from all classes of people in the towns of Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Barrington, Niles, Edison and Norwood Park, to be initiated in this coming January 8th class, by the Park Ridge Aerie, assures the Eagles of permanent existance in this community.

Arlington High School Students Enjoy Players

The Pollard Players, presented "The Pre-Intimate Stranger," in three acts before the Arlington Heights high school assembly last week. It was an excellent high grade production and greatly enjoyed by the students.

This was the third of seven general essembly programs arranged for the year. The two previously given were Miss Sellers, whistler and bird imitator and Mr. Pyor, dramatic reader of Shakespearian plays. The coming events are:

Dec. 20, Metropolitan Jubilee Singers, a negro quartette that took part in the Chicagoland music festival.

Jan. 10, E. Stanley Brooks, dramatic reader, specializing in Chas. Dickens stories.

Jan. 24, the Ambassador quartette.

Feb. 11, The Century Musical Co.

May 13, J. Zellner, dramatic reader.

These programs are being given at very low cost to the individual student. The first three programs did not average over 5c per pupil.

Master Show, "Crazy Politics" Here Thursday

Returns for One Night Under Auspices of Legion Post

That master musical stage show "Crazy Politics" that played for three nights last October at the St. James school hall, is going to be repeated for one night only, Thursday, December 20, at the Arlington Heights high school auditorium, with the same cast that played it before. It was such an exceptionally good show and so well put on by our own community amateur players, that this return show is really a result of popular demand by those who did not see it. Even a good number of those who did see the play, expressed the desire to see it again. So it must be a good show.

"Crazy Politics" is an up-to-date master musical comedy. There is singing and dancing by good looking chorus girls from our high school led by Gloria Sandberg and songs by the Singing Politicians composed of a large group of well known ladies of town. There is a comedy song "No Matter What It Is, I'm Against It" put on by Jimmy Bown, Buddy McKaig, Curly Rodewald and Art Lauterburg. There is singing by the entire cast. There is the political parade led by the German band. Many prominent citizens and business men of our town are in the show. There is Judge Kopplin as Jim Froley, the political boss; Raoul Peeters as Simpson, his nervous secretary; Charlie Paddock as Butch Burgess, the married man who has to be home by 9 o'clock; Jimmy Bown, the lead of the show, as Pat O'Donnell the wise-cracking newspaper reporter impersonating the famous Mrs. Van Dyne; Art Lauterburg as Dr. Jeffery and the little French maid; Buddy McKaig as Watson and the cute little 12-year old daughter; Curley Rodewald as Judge Fisher and the lady secretary; George Palmer as Rollins, the ardent 60-year old lover; Warren Parker as Ivan Awfulitch, the terrible Bolshevik; Les Griffith as Abie Goldberg, the Jew—'oi-oi'; Frank Sachs as Sam Jenkins, a persistent politician; Vincent Hand as Spider McGinnis, the tough gang leader; Vic Pecchia and Martin Goerger as Dope and Duke, two hardboiled gangsters; Charlie O'Hagan as Ward, the young reporter; and last, but not least, Bill Luehring and John Firnbach as two cops—good looking but tough.

And the actresses of the show include Eleanor Fredericks as Sally Carter, the pretty girl reporter; Peggy Rubner as Julia Rollins, in love with and at the same time disgusted with Simpson, the nervous secretary; Mrs. J. A. Wisersky as Mrs. Watson, who keeps a jealous eye on her husband; "Toots" Saar as Mamma Goldberg, who has a terrible time keeping track of Papa Goldberg; and Ora Toussaint as Beulah Higginbottom, head of the Women's Willing Workers. Mrs. Frank Cizek is the pianist and together with Mrs. Brynaldson assist in the musical production of the show. What a cast and what a show. It is a scream from start to finish with a laugh every minute.

This return engagement is being sponsored by our own Merle Guild American Legion Post and all proceeds are to be used for community service work in Arlington Heights. The combination of such a worthy cause and such a good show should make it well worth while to patronize. Tickets may be bought at Sieburg's Drug Store, the American Legion Home (Tel. Arl. Hts. 1572) and at the door of the high school the night of the show. All seats are reserved and ticket holders should present their tickets at Sieburg's Drug Store for this purpose. Seats also may be reserved at the high school the night of the show, but for the better seats, tickets should be reserved at Sieburg's Drug Store in advance. Because the show is playing for one night only, advance information points to packed house and the Merle Guild Post suggests that tickets be bought and reserved as soon as possible before there is a sell out.

Bread Is Best

Statistics are said to prove that bread is the most nourishing food in proportion to its price, followed by peas, potatoes, butter, cheese, milk, apples, eggs, cod and beefsteak, in that order. — Answers Magazine.

Arlington Woman's Club Member Praises Local Movie Programs

All Arlington Heights people should note with pride, the current films that our local theatre manager is bringing to us. It is to be hoped that we will be able to continue to have all these late pictures but this can only be done by supporting the theatre locally, instead of going to the neighboring towns. Watch the ads for coming attractions, then be a home town booster by waiting until they appear at our own theatre.

Mr. Godshaw, the manager, is certainly to be complimented for his endeavors to bring us the latest and the best films.

Two of the week's coming films, "Wake Up and Dream" and "Servants' Entrance" are recommended in the Parent's Magazine as family films.

What is the news? Most that we hear,
Cold weather, snow and Christmas near;
Sad tales of need, of want and woe,
Those needing most, let no one know;
Some hearts are sad for loved ones gone,
Still God in mercy leads them on.
Our town in debt, much the same here,
Coal bills and taxes come to cheer;
Riots of spending mark the way,
We wisely save for a future day;
This isn't news, then tell us where
To get news wouldn't make you swear?

One who has to report and observe our Christmas business activities, wonders why merchants fail to put prices on goods or articles displayed in their windows. By so doing, they will gain larger trade and save clerks trouble in finding prices for would be purchasers.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"God the Only Cause and Creator," was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, December 9.

The Golden Text was, "The Lord is the true God, he is the living God and an everlasting king: . . . He hath made the earth by his power he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion" (Jeremiah 10:10, 12).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is none else" (Deut. 4:39).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is individual, incorporeal. He is divine Principle, Love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no other self-existence. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual" (p. 331).

If you are finding the days before Christmas slipping away too quickly, you may like this poem we read recently written by Grace Noll Crowell.

God knew that children could not wait,
There would be such a flurry,
Unless the dark December days
Should pass by in a hurry,
And so he made these shortest days
That Christmas would not be delayed.

And Zip—they go, the little days,
With long, long nights of sleeping,
And scarcely any time at all
For bursty secret-keeping;
With only time enough to run
And get a gift for every one.

For Your Own Good—
Pay Your Taxes NOW, and AT HOME!

Don't deceive yourself, the longer you delay in paying your tax bill the more it is going to cost you and the community.

You Save

1—Interest and penalty costs.

2—Time and convenience. (You can pay now at your local bank; after December 24 you must make your payments at the County Building in Chicago.)

The Community Saves

1—Interest on tax warrants (which is a part of your tax bill).
2—Additional frozen assets. (Tax money paid at home is IMMEDIATELY distributed to the local tax group, otherwise a delay of from 3 to 6 months is caused in distribution involving additional cost in interest. Your schools and your city will receive 75 cents of every tax dollar you pay and in turn will immediately use that money to pay past due and current bills, teachers' salaries and retire tax warrants. Nearly every cent in turn will be distributed and circulated locally. WHY SEND MORE MONEY OUT OF TOWN?)

You can do no more patriotic duty to your own community and yourself than by paying your tax bill now and at home

The Local Collector will have the 1933 Tax Books until
December 24
Why let the county handle YOUR Tax Money?

AT THE CATLOW

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" finishes its three-day run at the Catlow theatre, Barrington, tonight, to make way for the "Cinderella" story, "Have A Heart," which will be offered Saturday night. Jean Parker, James Dunn, Una Merkel and Stuart Erwin carry the leads in this wistful tale of a young dancer who is forced to take up doll making for a living after a tragic accident. The selection from the Oven Dinnerware set for women patrons continues to be a popular Saturday night feature.

Ketti Gallian is a new star, one that you will find a place for in your memory after seeing her in the title role of "Marie Gallante," the feature attraction Sunday and Monday. Spencer Tracy is costarred in this story of intrigue and mystery centering about the Panama Canal. Added items of interest such as Laurel and Hardy in "Going Bye Bye," Popeye in "Dance Conquest," and community singing, the Sunday-Monday program promises to be unusually entertaining May Robson's, "Lady For A Day," for next week Tuesday, starring Glenda Farrell, Guy Kibbee, Walter Conolly and Warren William.

"Mrs. Wiggs of The Cabbage Patch" which is scheduled to play the Catlow next week Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, makes even more vivid the appeal that lies in this homespun story of the family that lived on the wrong side of the tracks. Pauline Lord will play Mrs. Wiggs; ZaZu Pitts, Miss Hazy; and W. C. Fields, the mail-order soul mate. Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor and five clever youngsters complete the roster of leading characters. An "Our Gang" comedy will be an added feature. The program is offered as a benefit for the Altrui Society of the Baptist church.

'Can Animals Think?' 'Yes,' Says Lions' Speaker

The question "Can animals think?" was answered last week by Al Priddy, for many years a circus man and animal lover, in his talk before the Palatine Lions Club. That the Lions are interested in this subject was evidenced by the fact that the club had its largest attendance of the year—eighteen members and seven guests.

The meeting was opened by First Vice President Iler promptly at the starting time, and when President Puffer arrived late he was fined for tardiness by the tail-twister, Dr. Clayton.

Ernest Iler was presented with a key as a reward for securing two new members. Dr. Clayton was presented with a chevron, to be worn in connection with the Lions emblem lapel button, awarded by Lions International for having served faithfully as a member for more than ten years. Three new members, Adolph Godknecht, Henry J. Harz and Pieter Vervloet, were received with ceremony.

Preceding the speaker, Miss Elva Ball entertained with her imitations of grand opera singers, Ozark hill billy characters and Western piano artists. She played equally well on the piano, harmonica, accordian, and showed versatility in playing on two harmonicas at once. Miss Ball also sang and whistled. She was appropriately costumed, and all present admired her imported stockings. She kept her listeners in continuous laughter.

Mr. Priddy prefaced his remarks with his definition of "think" as having the power of deductive reasoning. His first example concerned, not a wild animal, but a blooded house cat, who, its mistress claimed, was the dumbest creature on four legs. "Why," she said, "He hasn't enough sense to wiggle through a screen door." Mr. Priddy offered to show that the cat was not as dumb as that, and in twenty minutes made friends and coaxed him as far as the screen door. Then, standing outside, he produced a piece of liver. The cat made a lunge at the door, hesitated slightly, and got caught amidships. Later, trying trick again, the cat got as far as the door but could not be urged to rush through, because "the cat was too smart to get caught twice in the same manner."

The next example concerned Jerry, the singing mule. Jerry was merely a rundown mule which the "animal chef" had purchased with other animals for fresh meat. One of the trainers happened to walk past the corral and noticed that the dilapidated mule perked up its ears and watched his every movement. The trainer approached, and whistled to the mule, who answered with braying. The trainer discovered that the mule brayed every time he whistled a certain tone. Believing the mule had possibilities, he bought the animal from the chef and in a very short time taught it to sing in tune with the clown band. Thus the ambitious mule saved his own life and became famous as the only singing mule in the world.

One time the elephant house caught fire while in winter quarters. The night crew failed to smother the fire and it gained rapidly. The well-trained elephants waited for orders until the heat became unbearable. The leader then crashed through the wall and headed straight for the sleeping quarters of the elephant trainers. The circus authorities claimed that the men might have burned in their beds had it not been for the thoughtful heroism of the animal. Proof that animals, even in their wild state, have good memories was noticed by Mr. Priddy when the show was playing in Honolulu. Keepers had transferred a black maned Nubian lion, newly acquired by the circus, from one cage to another. The opposite door was not hooked properly and the lion broke loose. He roamed around the menagerie tent until he came to the bears which were chained at one end in scenery representing ice bergs. The frightened polar bears scrambled up the highest crag, but the Alaskan grizzly gave no evidence of fear. When the lion approached and roared for attention, he got it from the powerful paw of the grizzly which sent the king of beasts tumbling back into the aisle. The lion actually was glad to get back into his cage. Thereafter, whenever the lion became unruly, the keepers had only to haul his cage past the grizzly bears to subdue him.

The last and probably the most interesting story was about Skippy, the baby chimpanzee, which was found deserted in the jungle by a circus party. The chimp, too young for circus life, was given to the little daughter of one of the officials. Skippy, so named because he seemed always to be jumping in peoples' way, insisted on sleeping in a bed. At last he was given a bed of his own, which he took pride in making up each morning. The girl had taught him also to clean his teeth with brush and paste, bathe with soap in a shower, sit in a high chair for meals, wearing a napkin and using silverware.

Then Skippy was old enough to join the circus, Mr. Priddy paid him a visit. He arrived early, before Skippy was up, and decided to play a joke on him by hiding his tooth brush. Skippy was heard to arise, make his bed, enter the bathroom — then the commotion started. By the time the people got upstairs, the entire room was in confusion. Towels strewn around, window shade torn to shreds, medicine chest ripped from the wall and broken medicine battles covered the floor—Skippy couldn't find his tooth brush.

Mr. Priddy proved himself a showman by stating that the Lions had heard the first of his seventeen talks about animals and circus life, and expressed the hope that he would be invited again and again to complete his story.

Pupils Write Essays Telling of FHA Work

Students in the Arlington Heights Elementary and high schools are taking part in an essay contest which will acquaint them better with their home and its needs, the Federal Housing act, and what it can do for the community. "What modernization means to my home or to my community" is the topic upon which they are writing.

The contest is being carried on as a regular part of the school work through the efforts of the local FHA committee. The committee plans a house-to-house canvass to study housing needs and modernizing possibilities in the community, but the date for beginning this work has not yet been decided.

First Principal Gives Books to Library of Palatine H. School

The Palatine township high school was again honored recently by having as a visitor Judge Charles S. Cutting, who was the first principal of the school. Judge Cutting has made enumerable gifts to the school during the years past, and he again brought a large number of books which make a very valuable addition to the library. Among the volumes which he gave the school on this occasion are:

"The World—Historical and Actual," Gilbert; "History for Ready Reference and Topical Reading" (6 vols.), Larned; "Narrative and Critical History of America" (8 vols.), Winsor; "The Growing World"; "Chicago and Cook County" (3 vols.), Waterman.

"History of Illinois Republicanism," Raum; "Historical Encyclopedia of Illinois" (5 vols.), Bateman and Selby; "History of Chicago" (2 vols.), Moses and Kirkland; "History of Cook County, Illinois," Andreas; "History of Illinois, the Heart of the Nation" (5 vols.), Gov. Dunne; and "Geological Survey of Illinois," Worthen.

These books will be particularly useful in the work of the history and civics department for they contain detailed and interesting information rarely available. The school is very appreciative of the great interest which Judge Cutting has continued to show in it during these many years when he has always kept in close touch with its needs.

Missionary's Work In City Is Explained

"I wish we would eliminate terms of contempt such as 'nigger,' 'dago' and 'shinney' from our conversation," Dr. John Thompson of Chicago Temple said discussing his extensive missionary work among 25 foreign groups in his talk following a "cover dish" supper at the Palatine Methodist Episcopal church Wednesday evening.

Dr. Thompson stressed the importance of being open minded in human relationships, to think of nationality and not races, to think of all men as human beings.

The well-known Methodist clergyman has organized eight churches among the colored people in the city. In his friendship and work with the negro churches, Dr. Thompsoin has come to understand their problems.

"The colored are the first to be laid off and the last to be taken on in depression times. Right now 70 or 80 per cent of them are unemployed."

The Methodist Episcopal missionary society of the church with which Dr. Thompson is associated, has saved 20 churches of the denomination which were literally laid at their doorstep. The society has also helped 90 per cent of the churches in Cook county.

The secret of his success in raising money for the church Dr. Thompson believes, is the fact that he never asks a man really to give.

"I ask for an investment. Money given to the church is an investment in the childhood, young man and woman-hood of a community," the preacher explained.

Parties Mark Year End for Palatine Chapter O. E. S.

Three parties mark the year's end for Palatine Chapter of the Eastern Star. Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeBerge, worthy patron and matron were hosts Saturday evening, Dec. 1, to the officers of the chapter. A full course dinner was served in the dining hall of the chapter and was followed by an evening at cards in the chapter room. It was a most satisfying repast and the evening proved delightful. The past year has been a most happy 12 months for the various officers of the chapter. This event which practically marked the farewell to each other as a group, more firmly cement the bonds of friendship which seems more tightly cemented on account of the common interests they have experienced during the term of Mr. and Mrs. DeBerge in the East.

Officers Are Hosts

The officers were hosts last Thursday evening to Mr. and Mrs. DeBerge at a dinner served in a Barrington restaurant and followed by a theatre party at the Catlow. During the evening a gift of silver was presented to Mrs. DeBerge, which she informed her officers completed that she is pleased to term, "my Eastern Star dining room set." It was a gay party that was seated around two large tables. Unique place cards depicting traits of the individual, caused a lot of merriment, but were easily recognized by the individuals.

Chapter Party to Follow Election

Following the election of officers which occurs this Friday evening there will be a Christmas party for the members. Everyone is asked to bring some inexpensive gift to be exchanged. There will be a special program and a Santa Claus. A large attendance from the membership is urged as the committee is making large plans.

Effect of Education

Jud Tunkins says education is mighty important. A man may get in bad not so much because of his ideas as because of his vocabulary.

BENEFITS OF FHA ARE TOLD AT MEETING

$3500 Has Already Come To Palatine Says De Pue

What home modernizing under the Federal Housing act and what future activities of the FHA can mean to Palatine were discussed Tuesday night at the meeting of the local FHA committee. So far, without an active campaign, the FHA has brought $3,500 to Palatine, according to William H. DePue, general chairman.

But, if as a result of an active campaign and an awakening of homeowners, half of the 750 homes and business buildings in Palatine have an average of $100 spent for repairs, painting, or modernizing, $20,000 to $30,000, a sum nearly 10 times as large as that $3,500 can be brought into the community and put into circulation here.

The local campaign will seek to urge work to be done by local men, to purchase materials locally, and to keep the money as much as possible in Palatine, and so to benefit the community, both by the improvements made and by the employment created.

National benefits in reducing unemployed and in ever-spreading circles of employment were described to the meeting by K. C. Griswald, construction engineer, who was among the men who first worked out the modernizing plan seven years ago, and is now in charge of the northern 16 counties of Illinois for the FHA.

Increased activity in the building industry, dormant for more than three years, will bring work to more than 4,000,000 workmen, Mr. Griswald stated. Not only will it bring work to the carpenters, masons, plumbers, electricians, painters, and others directly engaged in the work, but also to the millions whose work it is to procure, prepare, and transport the materials.

The executive board will serve refreshments.

Schaumburg P. M. A. Meeting is Thursday

At present L. F. Nerge is president of the local and H. Kruse is secretary.

Substitute for Sugar

Saccharine is a white crystalline substance used as a substitute for sugar. It is a coal tar derivative, several hundred times sweeter than sugar, but it is not a food and is unchanged in digestion. It is used commercially in a number of ways; specifically, in beverages and in vegetables and fruits canned for low carbohydrate diets.

Puffer Kept Busy Going to Meetings

Noble J. Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools elect, was the guest Saturday of the Superintendent's Round Table of Northern Illinois an organization of all the leading superintendents of schools in northern Illinois. Wm. J. Bogan, Chicago, superintendent of schools, was also present as a guest and speaker.

Mr. Puffer has previously served as delegate and his loyal support of the organization is thus recognized by his re-appointment as delegate.

WHEAT CHECKS ARE GIVEN OUT FOR LAST YEAR

Farm Bureau Office Was Crowded by Farmers Calling for Share

There are many happy farmers this week among those who raise wheat crops. They received notices last Saturday that their checks from Uncle Sam as a part of the wheat control program, were awaiting their signature at the office of the Cook County Farm Bureau. These farmers are now poking fun at those cartoonists for certain of the big newspapers who, during the past year or more, tried to have a little fun at the expense of the farmer by showing cartoons of farmers driving their hogs to market which they didn't raise; and they have also tried to make sport of reducing corn and wheat production.

At the beginning of this program there was a good deal of misgiving felt among the farmers, themselves as to whether such a program was based on a firm foundation. That point has passed and it is now recognized that the program is sound and that it is productive of higher prices for farm commodities.

This has resulted in a flow of money all over the entire United States. Here in the state of Illinois, it has meant not only an increase in the sale price but in the amount of the farm income of thousands of families in the price of the crop itself. In addition there has been a bonus payment to these same farm families of many thousands of dollars. Today is a red letter day in this agricultural program, and here in Cook county we are feeling one of the benefits of it, for today there have been a great many checks passed out by the Cook County Farm Bureau to farmers who signed up for the wheat control program.

This money represents clear profit to the farmer as it is a bonus payment for the year of 1933. This payment is being made as a reward for co-operating with the control program which is intended to reduce the surplus of wheat, raised in the United States. It is a matter of common knowledge among economists and all informed people that for the past several years our foreign market for grain and live stock have practically disappeared, and as a consequent result surpluses of both meat and grain have accumulated which depressed the market far below the cost of production. In order to save our farming group from further losses and resultant foreclosures of farm mortgages, it became necessary that something be done to correct the situation.

"As Thousands Cheer" In Closing Weeks of Chicago Run

Although the great popularity of "As Thousands Cheer" has made it necessary to extend the Chicago run of this gilt-edged revue beyond its original booking at the Grand Opera House, it is now announced that the end of the successful run is in sight and will probably occur on Saturday night, December 29. Other cities have contracted to see this famous Irving Berlin-Moss Hart entertainment, and the fulfillment of these contracts cannot be longer postponed.

One reason why "As Thousands Cheer" is meeting with as great success on the road as it did in New York, where it remained for 50 solid weeks, is that Sam H. Harris, the producer, is presenting the big show everywhere precisely as it was given at the Music Box theatre on Broadway, with the original cast of stars, headed by Clifton Webb, Helen Broderick, Dorothy Stone and Ethel Waters, and their large supporting company of 80, together with the sumptuous production which requires five baggage cars to transport it from city to city.

There are twenty-two scenes in "As Thousands Cheer," despite which the curtain is down by 11 o'clock, the speed of the many scenic changes being one of the novel features of the revue.

By this time the laughable skits lampooning the great and the near great are well known. They include side-splitting take-offs on the Hoovers, the Rockefellers, the British royal family, Barbara Hutton and her Prince Mdivani, Joan Crawford, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Mhatma Gandhi, Aimee Semple MacPherson, Ramsey MacDonald, Josephine Baker, Noel Coward and Lynn Fontane. Irving Berlin's musical numbers include "Heat Wave, "Lonely Heart," "The Funnies," "Her Easter Bonnet," "Supper Time," "Our Wedding Day," "I've Got Harlem On My Mind," "Not For All The Rice In China" and others. There are also numerous spectacles and colorful effects, one of the most beautiful being the Easter Parade on Fifth avenue in New York of 1883, which for sheer beauty has never been surpassed on any stage.

Arlington Wins 28-24; Bensenville Takes Warren

MAC SAYS

—By—
Gerald A. McElroy

Unusual Results

Last weeks' results in the conference cage race are unusual in that the winners of the heavyweight games also won the lightweight contests. We don't remember a time prior to this when all won double victories on the same night. What is more unusual is the fact that three of the winning schools were playing away from home.

The only real close game was the Palatine-Libertyville battle. The Wildcats lost by one point but its our guess that they don't lose many games this year and will still play a very important part in deciding the championship.

Palatine appears to be every bit as good as last season particularly if they can start hitting the loop a little more regularly. They had 60 shots in the Libertyville game with but 8 registering. They have not hit their stride at tossing free throws either.

Arlington Wins

Arlington stepped off on the right foot at the expense of Antioch. We had picked Antioch to trim them. Had not noticed before but the Cardinals have the schedule made to order for them this year as the three teams they do not play are among the four strongest in the league. Palatine, Libertyville and Leyden are not met by the Grose five this year which is some break. Arlington should finish no lower than third with Barrington the only outstanding team on their schedule.

We hear that Johnson has some hot shots at Bensenville who can hit from any distance. Pilgrim is supposed to be a sensation in his first year. We don't know who was the big scorer when Bensenville beat Warren. Bensenville always has a high scoring team and they may be the dark horse of the race.

Top Scorers

Leroy Pflug of Wauconda, diminutive forward, takes the honors for the best scoring performance on the opening night with 14 points as Leyden was defeating his team. Bishop of Antioch ranks second with 13 points of his team's 24 as they lost to Arlington.. Reuse of Palatine and Etters of Barrington tied for third with 11 points.. Their teams were winners. Reuse's 11 points made up half of Palatine's total in their 22 to 21 victory over Libertyville.

The prize rally to win was recorded at Palatine where their lightweights won 22 to 15 after trailing 15 to 10 at the start of the last period. Palatine and Leyden lights who tied for the title last year do not meet this season.

SPECTACULAR RALLY BRINGS LIGHTS AHEAD

Palatine Teams Down Libertyville 22-15; 22-21 in Uphill Games

Both Palatine teams surmounted one of the greatest obstacles in their path to a repitition of last year's double championship when they took a double victory from Libertyville last Friday evening on the home court. The Lightweights won 22 to 15 with a spectacular last quarter rally while the heavyweights also came from behind to nose out the visitors 22 to 21.

Trailing at the start of the last period by a score of 15 to 10 the Pirate lights ran wild for 12 points in the last period while Libertyville was being held scoreless. Mess shot three baskets in as many shots in the first three minutes of the quarter. The Palatine team made six baskets in 11 shots in their big rally.

Big Elvis Foster was leading scorer of the game with nine points, closely followed by Mess with eight counters. Dishinger of Libertyville tied Foster for top honors with nine points. The Pirate lights appeared greatly improved over their former exhibitions.

The Palatine regulars fought an uphill battle all the way due to inability to hit free throws during the first half. Baskets by Reuse and Hahnfeldt gave the home team a 4 to 2 lead at the quarter but Brown and Stickles scoring gave Libertyville a 9 to 8 lead at the half. Palatine missed six free throws in as many chances in the first half.

Stickels and Worthen paced the scoring of Reuse and Hahnfeldt in the third period which found Libertyville still ahead 18 to 17. Hahnfeldt tied the score when fouled by Isaacson and Perry drove in fast to score a rebound shot about a minute later to give Palatine the lead for the first time since the initial quarter. Isaacson tied the score with his first and only basket, but Reuse dribbled away for a setup and the winning basket. Stickles free throw was followed by three and one half minutes of stalling on the part of Palatine, who in this period, had many set up shots, but could not increase their lead.

Reuse, Palatine captain, played the best game of his career and ranked head and shoulders above any man on the floor in quality of work. Reuse scored in every quarter for a total of 11 points. Stickles and Brown were outstanding for Libertyville. Palatine's inability to score free throws and Libertyville's unusual record of 11 out of 14 made the game a close one. Palatine made 5 field goals in 59 shots while Libertyville had 5 out of 39.

CONFIDENCE IS WATERLOO FOR ANTIOCH

Cardinals Take Leads and Keep Them; Lights Win 16-12

Arlington's Cardinals surprised themselves by annexing a double header at Antioch last Friday in their conference basketball opener. The Cards capitalized on a bit of overconfidence on the part of Antioch, got a start out in front, and stayed there all the rest of the game. Arlington Heavies won 28-24; the light 16-12.

Antioch also was handicapped by the fact that neither Steffenberg nor Thill were in top condition. The former played the whole game, however, but Thill saw service only for a few minutes.

Alert, aggressive play won for Arlington in both games. They broke in behind Antioch repeatedly for close shots and on defense kept Antioch pretty well bottled up. Hertel and Rohlwing led in the scoring, but had Gieseke sunk a goodly per cent of his close up shots he would have outscored his mates. Weisgerber smothered Steffenberg, and until George went out on personals the Antioch star had not scored from the field. However, when he did start, Steffenberg rolled in three goals in a hurry.

Bishop was high scorer of the evening and stamped himself as one of the best offensive men in the league. Hawkins, too, played a good game.

Arlington used an even dozen men in the lightweight game, splitting the time almost equally. None were in long enough to get well warmed to the job, but out of the group the starting lineup of one Frosh and four Sophs looked best.

Arlington C. A. C. Girls Lost to Barrington 14-9

Arlington Height's C. A. C. girls basketball team lost a practice game at Barrington 14-9 Tuesday night. Another pre-season game was scheduled to be played at Park Ridge last night.

New Auto Licenses Are Now On Sale In Chicago Office

Distribution of the first batch of Illinois 1935 automobile license plates was started last week Tuesday by Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes, and sale of plates "over the counter" began Thursday at Springfield and at the automobile division of the Chicago office at 120 South Ashland boulevard.

The 1935 plates have marine blue figures and letters on a field of battleship gray. The plates are the same size as last year but the inscription, "Illinois, 1935" is at the top of the numerals, the reverse of last year.

Many motorists are under the impression that they are required to buy a new certificate of title this year and are adding 50c to their regular fee for this purpose. Secretary Hughes points out that the present titles are good for the life of the car or until it passes into the hands of a new owner.

From the Chicago office the secretary's staff will serve all applicants living in Cook county. Its geographic location makes it readily accessible to those in this area.

BRONCO GAME AT ARLINGTON FEATURE TILT

Victory Will Give Cardinals Inside Track for Championship

The schedule for the week looks like a good one with the Barrington game at Arlington topping the list. If Barrington is really as good as they are rated, the Cardinals should drop from the unbeaten ranks. A win for the Cardinals would place them on the inside track to the championship because of the schedule. Grose has a scrappy outfit who can hit baskets, but they probably will find their small stature a great handicap against Etters, Latta and Mollenkamp, the six-footers of the Broncho team.

The games between Antioch at Bensenville and Warren at Leyden should be good ones. The Antioch-Bensenville tilt brings a couple of high scorers together and as both teams use a last break some interesting basketball will be served up to the DuPage fans. Odds on this game are even. Leyden will probably have too much power for Warren.

Libertyville should chalk up their first victory at Ela. According to reports the Lake Zurich team is considerably improved and with Kane and Nehmer going good, may upset someone but hardly Libertyville. Martin's Wildcats have a pair of fast hard driving men in Brown and Stickles and with Isaacson regaining his old form will be hard to beat. Jaeger at guard is another valuable Libertyville man and he was missed badly when forced to leave the Palatine game on fouls.

Palatine has another game at home this week when Wauconda comes to town and the Pirates expect to have their hands full. Megel hopes his team will be able to stop Pflug who scored 15 points last week as Wauconda dropped their opener to Leyden 38 to 28. Last season the Pirates had a couple of their toughest games with Wauconda and there is little danger of overconfidence on their part.

Arlington Aces Schedule Three Games in 5 Days

The two Arlington Aces basketball teams are having a busy time, with three games scheduled in five days. Tonight they travel to Crystal Lake, and Sunday will play at Franklin Park.

Tuesday they will play their next home game when they meet Wauconda's five in the Arlington Heights high school gym in the third of the series of games.

ELA IS VICTIM AS BARRINGTON OPENS SEASON

Heavies Win Easily 31-12; Lights Barely Nose Out Visitors 30-17

Barrington opened the season with a double win over Ela on the Broncho court. The heavyweights had things pretty much their own way in piling up a 31 to 12 total, but the lights barely nosed out the Lake Zurich reserves 20 to 17.

Etters for Barrington and Kane for Ela stood out in the main game of the evening. Coach Clark substituted freely and despite the fact that Ela showed more strength than usual, the Bronchs had little trouble maintaining the lead. At the quarter they were in front 9 to 0, but faltered in the second period to finish the half 12 to 6. Barrington led 19 to 8 at the start of the final period.

After accumulating a lead of 11 to 6 in the first half, the Barrington lights had their hands full staving off a late Ela rally. Klopfenstein with 10 points led the Barrington scoring. Anderson and Rice each scored two field goals. Greber and Miller were the leaders on offense for Ela.

Ela had six field goals, five free throws and seven fouls while Barrington's record was eight field goals, four free throws and nine fouls. Coach Hosford used 11 players in his Barrington lineup while Ela played but six.

Arlington Grade Boys First Game is Today

Arlington Heights grade school boys will play their first game in the Northwest junior high school conference season this afternoon on their home floor when they meet the strong Dundee foes. The other six schools in the loop opened their schedules last week.

Probable starters in the first team game are Jerousek at center, Milligan and Harth at guards, and Oefelein and Colby at forwards. Second team starters will probably be Schulenberg at center, McDugal and Nichols at guard, and Peters and Koelling as forwards. Willard Vanderbeek is coach of the team.

Minnesota Captain

Captain Pug Lund, All-American half back of the undefeated Minnesota eleven, provided the leadership and inspiration which carried the mighty Gopher team to the national championship. Lund, winner of All-American honors for the second time in a row, is a triple threat back who averaged 6.7 yards for each ball carrying attempt this past year and had a punting average of 39 yards. Lund was the choice of every major critic for the title of top notch back of the year and voted by his team mates as their most valuable performer.

LEYDEN WINS IN TWO GAMES AT WAUCLNDA

Heavies Win 38-24; Lights 28-18; Pflug Is the Scoring Star

Playing a fine pair of games, Leyden high school of Franklin Park won 38-24 and 18-28 in the season's opening contests at Wauconda Friday. Leyden presented a well-coached team, standing out both defensively and offensively against the Wauconda boys, coached by Gail M. Breithauft, newest mentor in the loop, who is opening his first season at the northerly school.

While his team came out on the short end of the score, Leroy Pflug of Wauconda was the outstanding player of the evening. He scored seven field goals for a total of 14 points. Leyden's lights by their 28-18 victory over the Wauconda lights started a drive for another lightweight trophy.

TWO VICTORIES BY ORANGEMEN BEGIN SEASON

Heavies Win 34-17 Friday; Lights Take Close Game 12-8

Bensenville, smartly kicked around in the football season just closed, played a basketball game last Friday that showed the southerners to be among the conference's strong teams on the hardwood floor. The Orangemen traveled to Warren and came home with the Gurnee boys' scalps handing from their belts.

Bensenville's heavies went into a 5-3 lead at the end of the first quarter, and stayed ahead to win a 34-17 victory. The score at the half was 14-9, and at the end of the third quarter 25-10. Pilgrim, Bensenville forward, accounted for 12 points with five field goals and two free throws.

Warren accounted for only 4 field goals as against 13 for the visitors. Three Warren men went out on fouls, while one Bensenville player left the game by the same route.

Bensenville's lightweights started off the evening by defeating their hosts 12-8 in a close game. In the first quarter only five points were scored, three by Bensenville and two by Warren. At the half the score was 10-5. One free throw by Bensenville was the only scoring in the third period.

Palatine Town Team Plays Dundee Sunday

Palatine's town cage team made up of stars from teams of the past three or four years will travel to Dundee for a game Sunday afternoon. The game is called for 2:30 p. m.

Dundee has had outstanding high school teams in this section for a number of years and the Palatine boys look for tough competition. The local team is one of seven teams in the Northwest Sports association league and their schedule will be announced next week.

Crystal Lake, Dundee, Barrington Juniors Win

Dundee, Crystal Lake, and Barrington won in the opening games of the Northwest Junior high school conference basketball season Friday. Dundee's first team defeated Woodstock 22-8 and the Dundee seconds won 23-12.

Crystal Lake's first defeated Cary 17-10 and their seconds won 25-4. At Barrington Barrington's first team defeated Palatine 22-1 and their second team won 11-6.

BLUE ACES WIN FROM PALATINE IN ADDED TIME

Game Ends 36-31; White Aces Defeat Visitors 38-25

An overtime game between the Arlington Blue Aces and the Palatine town team featured the opening of the graduate teams' seasons in the Arlington gym Friday night. Scoring 7 points in the extra time while their opponents scored only 2, the Blue Aces won 36-31.

In the other game of the evening the Arlington White Aces defeated another Palatine team 38-25. Superior team work and passing piled up a lead early in the game, and set a pace which the visitors could not keep up to. At the half the Aces lead 22-4.

The Blue Aces-Palatine game proved a thriller. While the home team had lead 8-2 at the end of the first quarter and 20-15 at the half, the visit closed up to make the score 25-23 at the end of the third quarter and tied the score 29-29 when the fourth quarter ended. The Aces tossed in four free throws and missed eight, while the Palatine team gained by making 9 scores in 18 attempts.

Koske and Volz with four baskets each and McKaig and L. Brodnan with two each were the Ace's scoring stars. Blankenship lived up to his high school reputation by sinking five field goals and two free throws for Palatine while all his teammates contributed to the score.

St. James C. Y. O. Team Wins from St. Cornelia 27-9 in Sunday's Game

The St. James C. Y. O. basketball team opened its season with an impressive 27 to 9 victory over St. Cornelia, Sunday. The losers put a big, fast team on the floor, with plenty of power in it. The victors showed excellent passing and a tight, shifting defense. Neither team hit consistently.

The game throughout the first half was closely fought. With about 5 minutes left in that period, Arlington trailed, 8-5. Following a time out, the local boys opened a beautiful passing attack, which sent F. Brodnan under the basket to score. J. Long and Stefanik collected follow-up shots before the half ended to bring the count to 11-8. The passing game worked consistently in the second half, sending McKaig, O'Hagan, and L. Brodnan under the basket unguarded. Missed set-up shots cost them a forty point score.

W. Annen looked good at center, especially on defense. McKaig and F. Brodnan were the guards, and played in mid-season form. Louis Brodnan settled down during the second half and passed very well, while Louis Stefanik was the usual battler under the basket. A season of C. Y. O. play has made O'Hagan and J. Long valuable additions to the squad. Another substitute at center was discovered when Doyle broke into the lineup. All league games this season will be played at St. Hedwig's gym, on Touhy avenue near Niles.

NORTHWESTERN VS. PITTSBURGH

Northwestern university's basketball team meets its sternest competition of the season tonight when Pittsburgh, champions of the East, invades Patten gymnasium for the annual encounter with the Wildcats. The Panthers defeated Northwestern 27-23 last year.

PREP PLAYERS GUESTS

High basketball squads and accompanying coaches and faculty-men will be guests tonight at the Illinois-Wabash game in Champaign.

Des Plaines Teams Lose To White Aces 41-26; Blue Aces 47-36 Tues.

Arlington Heights' White and Blue Ace basketball teams each won a victory Tuesday night when they were hosts to Des Plaines teams. The White Aces won 41-26, and the Blue Aces 47-36.

The White Aces won when the visitors forfeited the game by walking off the floor with 2 minutes left to play. The game had been even and hard-fought. What started out to be a close game for the Blue Aces turned out to be not so hard when the Achome team showed their heels in the second half.

WATER PROJECT HELD UP INDEFINITELY AS BOARD ELECTS TO PUT QUESTION UP TO VOTERS AT SPECIAL REFERENDUM

Engineers Point Out That Village Lacks Adequate Water Supply and That Reservoir as Planned is Most Desirable and Economic Solution; Cost Would Have Been Self Liquidating; Gov't Loan Probably Lost.

(Mt. Prospect Review)

The Village Board met on Tuesday evening for the adjourned session to consider the petition on the water works improvement, and with a full Board attendance and a full house of interested citizens. Attorney Thal and Mr. Art Consoer of the engineering concern handling the project were present to assist in the discussions.

After a full evening of discussion in which all present took part, covering all phases of the project, the Board reached a vote on the acceptance of the petition, and went on record as favoring the submission to a vote of the people of the Village, the question of having or not having a water works improvement. The vote was a three to three tie, with President Meyn casting the deciding vote. Those voting in favor of proceeding with the project, on the basis of the ordinance which has been passed were Trustees Budlong, Niebuhr and Carlson. Those who favored getting an expression from the people before taking any further action were Trustees Beigel, Wille and Haas, and Mr. Meyn.

Adjournment Forced

Immediately after the vote, a motion was made by Trustee Haas forcing adjournment, without any other action being taken which would indicate what action would follow the approval of the petition. Attorney Thal had recommended to the Board that it was advisable for them to pass a motion which would prepare for a referendum at an early date. Village President Meyn was unable to say, following adjournment, what procedure would be followed in getting some positive action, either in discontinuing the discussion f the present project, or substituting a different type of construction. He suggested, however, that probably a special meeting of the Board would be called before the next regular meeting in January.

Right of Petition Upheld

One point of contention on the part of those who favored having a referendum was that at the time the project was approved originally, the state law provided for a petition for a referendum, which, under the law at that time had to be accepted. Attorney Thal reported that the law was changed last May, which had been previously reported, and as it stands at present, a referendum is not necessitated by the petition. However, it was maintained that those who are not in favor of the project, for one reason or another, have depended upon their privilege of petitioning, and even though the state law has taken this right away from them, the Board should still allow them consideration.

The petition as presented referred to the old law, and was declared by Attorney Thal to have no legal status. As it was worded, it does not suggest a different type of construction, but asks for the voting by the people on the present project, from which it was assumed that a ballot would be presented which would indicate those in favor of and those against the 250,000 gallon underground reservoir at a cost of $18,000.00, of which about two thirds would be repaid to the Federal Government out of water revenue. During the discussion, it was pointed out that several signers of the petition were residents of the Village who do not use water, and consequently are not affected by the project, since they would not contribute in any way toward paying for its cost.

Mr. Art Consoer, of the engineering firm of Consoer, Townsend, Older and Quinlan, who are engineers for Mt. Prospect and also for the new project at Arlington Heights, pointed out that the Village is faced at present with a serious water shortage, in case anything would happen to either of the present two deep wells, which deliver water at a rate of about 80 gallons per minute each. He spoke as a resident of the neighboring town of Park Ridge, and an engineer, in advising the Board members that they would appear to be greatly remiss in their duties if they failed to provide additional capacity at this time. He pointed out that his firm had reluctantly agreed to the reduction in the storage capacity from the recommended reservoir of 500,000 gallons, to half that amount, since the insurance authorities had very definite rulings on storage for fire protection, and the local system needed the larger additional amount.

Must Have More Capacity

Trustee Haas spoke for the signers of the petition, in declaring that their desire is for a construction out of private funds which would involve about $13,600.00, with an elevated storage tank of 100,000 gallons capacity. This storage capacity was declared by the engineers to be insufficient to meet the requirements of the insurance authorities and to be a waste of money, since the construction is more costly for the storage obtained than reservoir construction. Mr. Consoer also explained that the project as planned under the ordinance passed, includes an aerator which cannot be made a part of an elevated tank system. This device will remove a great portion of the iron in the water, reducing the staining of fixtures, and improving the quality,, especially in the warm months of the year.

The discussion took in the comparison between elevated tanks and reservoirs in detail, and the engineers explained that practically all towns have underground storage capacity. In Arlington Heights, where a 250,000 gallon tank is being erected, there is an underground reservoir with 100,000 gallon capacity, which is depended upon for fire protection reserve. It was explained also that one consideration in Arlington Heights was the increasing of pressure in the southeast part of the village, which could be accomplished only by a standpipe. Another consideration presented in favor of the reservoir was that the plan permits addition of further capacity with little expense, which would not be possible with a tank. Also, it was explained that, in addition to providing iron removal, the reservoir is such that a water treatment plant can be added later, using the reservoir as a part of the treatment plant, if such a construction were desired.

Gov't Loan Undoubtedly Lost

The reasons stated by the Board members who voted to have a referendum was only that petitioners should be given what they wished, and that regardless of how they felt about the matter individually, the settlement of the question by popular vote was desirable. It was suggested by one of these trustees after the meeting adjourned that the petition signers represented a majority of the Village,—indicating that the project is actually an unpopular one, in its present form, at least. This desire on the part of the majority of the Board made actual consideration of advantages or features of the project impossible, although the evening was spent in their discussion before a motion was made to record the opinions held by the members.

Although the next move to be taken by the Board is undetermined, there is a possibility that the PWA loan and grant will be cancelled, due to the delay. Some attempt may be made to obtain action soon enough to prevent this cancellation, although the explanation given by Trustee Haas of the desires of some of the petition signers indicates that they prefer to have the construction financed by water bonds sold privately. This would require paying a higher interest rate, and the entire cost would have to be covered by bonds, which for the same storage capacity and fire protection, would probably involve an increase in water rates, which has been found to be unnecessary under the PWA plan.

Womens' Club

The Mount Prospect Women's club will hold its next meeting on December 18, 1934, at 8 p. m., at the home of Mrs. E. C. Bolton, 409 Ioka avenue. CHARLIE GRIMM, PEPPY CUBS BOSS TO SPEAK AT FATHERS - SONS BANQUET MON. NIGHT

Charlie Grimm, the popular and peppy manager of the Chicago Cubs, will be the guest speaker at the Father-Son banquet next Monday night, December 17, at the Lutheran school auditorium. He is very busy now building up a team for next year and that team looks now like a sure winner. He is known as a jolly good fellow and quite an entertainer and will doubtless bring to the banquet much more than baseball lore. He is a man's man and a boy's man, a genial and companionable leader.

It is hoped that the Father-Son banquet will become an annual affair as it has become in most communities. It is an event which is anticipated from one years' end to the next, a time when fathers and sons become acquainted with each other; when fathers meet the fathers of the sons with whom their sons associate, when fathers meet other father's sons, and when sons form friendships with other sons. For the older man without a son of his own, it offers an opportunity to do a joyful deed in adopting a son for the occasion, who may become something more to him than merely a boy whom he sees now and then.

Short, Peppy Talks

One feature of the banquet which is entirely new, will be the stop-go-light for the control of speakers, which is recommended as a sure cure for the most persistent and long winded speaker. Of course the toastmaster upon whom will rest the responsibility of keeping things moving will not be subject to the dictates of the light, and neither, of course, will the guest speaker be controlled by any time limit. The stop light will serve as a safety first measure against boredom, just as the stop light on the highway serves as a safety first measure for traffic.

The banquet will be served by the Ladies' Aid of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, who are famous for their excellent dinners. Full value for every cent spent by the purchasers of the tickets is assured by the fact that the entertainment will cost only a nominal sum. There will be no profit to anyone. No group will attempt to make anything on the banquet, but all efforts are being turned toward assuring a good time to the large crowd which will attend. The price of the tickets is seventy-five cents for all over fourteen years of age and fifty cents for those under fourteen.

Tickets may be secured from any of the Ticket Sales committee which is headed by Adolph Gosch. Of course it will be necessary to purchase tickets as soon as possible since so little time is left before Monday, the seventeenth.

The Christmas meeting of the Women's Circle, will be held at the home of Mrs. C. Angell, 319 Wa-Pella avenue, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 19, at 8 p. m. Mrs. J. Zahn will be the assisting hostess.

Mrs. Cunningham Entertains the Am. Legion Aux.

The American Legion Auxiliary held its regular meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Geo. Cunningham, and in spite of the cold weather, attendance was large.

Plans were made for a Christmas party for children of American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary members in the public school basement December 21. The Auxilary Juniors will furnish an interesting program.

Mrs. G. Cunningham, rehabilitation chairman, visited the Soldiers and Sailors home at Normal last week and had a delightful visit with the orphan which the local auxiliary is sponsoring. This orphan and a little girl sponsored by the Juniors will both be sent Christmas gifts.

On Wednesday, Dec. 12th, Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Verrett will visit Hines Hospital and the following week will assist in distributing slippers, ties and handkerchiefs to patients. This is part of the National Rehabilitation project carried out each year.

Friday evening, Dec. 14, Mrs. Verrett will open her house to the ladies desiring to play cards, while their husbands will be trying to win the Christmas bird downstairs. Refreshments will be served and there will be prizes. A small donation will be asked. Come and join the party.

Don't forget, Mrs. Santa Claus would like all toys your children no longer play with and which can be mended and made like new. Phone 1167 or 972-J and the toys you have will be called for.

V. F. W. Auxiliary News

The Ladies' Auxiliary to Prospect Post No. 1337, Veterans of Foreign Wars are now collecting magazines, empty spools, beads, old silk stockings and clothing. These will be delivered to the patients at the Elgin hospital. If you have any of these things to donate, get in touch with any member and we will be glad to call for them.

The ladies will also give the patients at that hospital, a treat of cigarettes at Christmas time, and a most generous donation is given for the orphans in the V. F. W. National Home. This donation is given, independent of our monthly donation that we have pledged to the Home.

Santa Claus has also promised to do his bit here at home and will have the assistance of Mrs. E. Pingel. So, children, be patient and it won't be long now.

Scouts Hold Interesting Meeting

On Tuesday, December 4, 1934, the Boy Scouts held their usual meeting in the basement of the public school. There was a good attendance and three new scouts were enlisted. Leland Helwig joined and will act as our new assistant scoutmaster in place of Mr. Edward Adam who has retired to another troop. Welcome Mr. Helwig. Scout Philip Kaiser who came with a new and spiffy uniform proceeded to cop the inspection away from the old timers. Congratulations, Philip! Then there is Billy Noe who recently advanced from the Cub pack. They all are promising scouts and we are glad to have them.

The program was well conducted and there was a lot of fun as well as instruction in signaling, and other scouting activities. We decided to have a treasure hunt next Saturday, meeting at the public school at 2:30 p. m., and we are hoping for good weather. After the meeting the officers had a discussion and it was decided that we, too, would have some fun, so we planned a staff party to be held at the home of George Dresser Friday evening, Dec. 14. Our next meeting will be Tuesday and we hope to see some new members.

Masonic Club Election Meeting Friday Night

The annual election of officers of the Mt. Prospect Masonic club will be held at the regular monthly meeting of the organization to be held at the public school house this coming Friday night, Dec. 14, at eight o'clock.

This is one of the most important meetings of the year and all Masons of the community are especially urged to come out.

ABOUT POULTRY

By A. A. Paltz

By A. A. PALTZ

Which Type of Brooder House Is Best?

Chicks are brooded in several different ways and each method calls for a different type of Brooder House.

The Colony House

The Colony type of brooder house is the most popular now and has been for years. It is thoroughly tried and tested so there must be good reasons why it has persisted in its popularity.

Colony Brooder Houses are small individual houses. The most common sizes are as follows:

8 ft. x 8 ft....100 to 150 Chicks
8 ft. x 12 ft....200 to 250 Chicks
10 ft. x 12 ft....250 to 300 Chicks
12 ft. x 14 ft....400 to 500 Chicks

The advantages of the Colony House method of brooding are many. One of the most important is that the Colony House can be moved from one location to another. This is a great aid to sanitation because Chicks can be grown on an entirely different plot of clean ground each year.

Another important advantage of the Colony House is that it can be located near to the residence. During the early part of the Brooding Season, frequent trips to the Brooder House are necessary. When the chicks are older and need less frequent attention, then the Colony House may be moved to the summer range.

There is still another feature of Colony brooding which is an advantage. That is, brooding chicks in small broods. Broods of 250 to 500 chicks each do much better as a rule than large broods of 1,000 chicks or more.

The Long Type of Brooder House

The long type of Brooder House offers some advantages when a large number of chicks (5,000 or more) are to be brooder. The cost for fuel and labor is less, cleaning is easier and all of the chicks can be watched better.

As a rule, with the long type of Brooder House, the chicks are not allowed outside except on very small cement covered runs. The long type of Brooder House is permanently located, therefore the soil around the house becomes unfit for chicks after a few seasons use. This is the reason for cement floor or wire floored runs.

Only thoroughly experienced poultry raisers should attempt to brood chicks in this type of house. The disease hazard is greater and certain vices, such as canibalism are apt to break out when chicks are confined constantly during Brooding. Also when chicks used to confinement are moved to the range, trouble may result because of the sudden change especially when the weather changes suddenly, immediately after the chicks are moved.

The long type of Brooder House is exactly what the name implies. It is a long house, divided into a series of small brooding rooms by partitions. A single hot water system operated by one stove is the usual method of heating.

The Battery System of Brooding

Regardless of all that has been said about Battery Brooding, it has not really proved itself as a satisfactory method of brooding chicks which are to be moved to the growing range and later on to the laying house.

The chief trouble with Battery Brooding is, trouble develops when the chicks are moved. Mortality of Battery Brooded Pullets is often very heavy after they are moved to the range.

As a means of starting chicks for the first three to ten days, batteries are used quite successfully by many poultry raisers, but longer confinement does not seem to be advisable.

Batteries for broiler raising have in many cases proved quite satisfactory especially when ample room is provided as the birds grow.

One big difficulty in battery brooding is canabalism. This habit seems to break out very easily unless ideal conditions and feed are provided.

All this is not to say that Battery brooding is not successful. But rather that the chick raiser should have experience with this method of brooding and know what he is doing before he makes a big investment in this type of equipment.

Essential Features in a Good Colony Brooder House

By and large the most successful and practical type of brooder house for the farmer or the back lotter is the Colony House. Therefore, a few pointers on a brooder house of this type are in order.

A double floor with a layer of water proof building paper between makes the best floor. Arrangements must be made for good ventilation. In the front, frames covered with muslin should be constructed so that they can be raised or lowered as weather conditions demand. In the rear the space between the rafters should be constructed so that considerable ventilation may be provided here.

The Colony House should be constructed on skids so that it can be moved easily with a team of horses.

Before building a Colony Brooder House, it is well to send to the State Agricultural College for recommendations. Bulletin No. 291 will be sent free to any Poultry Raiser upon request by the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture, Urbana, Illinois.

Note: Mr. Paltz is a poultryman of long experience and will be glad to answer your poultry questions if you address your correspondence to Mr. A. A. Paltz, Sunny Croft Hatchery, Palatine, Illinois.

WHEELING

The Community Christmas tree celebration will be sponsored by the chamber of commerce, Friday, Dec. 21, at 7 p. m., sharp, at the village hall. All children are invited.

Mr. John Wick narrowly escaped serious injury last Thursday afternoon, when he was thrown from the cab to the pavement when another motorist struck his truck while driving on Deerfield road. Fortunately he suffered only severe bruises and road burns. The truck was damaged considerably.

The play, "Tea Toper Tavern," presented by young people of the community last Friday evening, was well received. The plot of the play centered about the activities of a group of college girls, who rented a country mansion, converting it into a tea room for the purpose of raising money for their college endowment fund. A quarantine, the unexpected return of the owner, a costume ball, a fire, a secret passage way and the darts of cupid, contributed to the developing of the plot. The cast of characters included Janet McCaffrey, Dorothy Balling, Ethel Reeb, Edna Grewe, John Sicks, Edna Hoffman, Cornelia Huizenga, Allen Wick, Marshall Balling, Oscar Laurance, Bud Flentge, Robert Kruse, Florence Page, Cornelia Huizenga.

The young celebrity, Miss Clara Hartmann, was honored by three farewell parties before her return last week, to spend the winter months in Des Moines. A group of twenty friends were gathered at the Hartmann House on Tuesday afternoon, remaining for supper and the evening which was passed playing bunco and cards. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. F. Siese entertained in her honor as did Mrs. Wm. Laurance on Wednesday evening.

We are glad to note that Mr. Hy. Grandt, Sr., is convalescing from his recent operation in the Lutheran Deaconess hospital, Chicago.

The regular meeting of the Wheeling Parent-Teacher's association, will be held at the school next Monday, Dec. 17, at 3:15 p.
